INFLECT JUSTICE IN FAR NORTH

Murderers of Royal Canadian Mounted Police Officer Will Pay Extreme Penalty Following Trial in Arctic

TWO ESKIMOS WILL DIE ON SCAFFOLD

British Justice Prevails Along Frozen Coast of Extreme North, and Double Murder Will Be Judicially Avenged

EDMONTON, Sept. 12.—A special dispatch to The Bulletin from Fort McMurray says:
"At the Herschel Island detachment station of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in the Arctic Ocean, two Eskimo murderers, sentenced to death by Judge Lucien Dubuc, will be hanged by the Government executioner on December 7. Another coast native, also accused of murder, received a sentence of three years' imprisonment."

The executioner, who went north with the judicial party from Edmonton, remained at Herschel Island but will possibly be brought to the "outside" by dog team via the Yukon and Alaska on the completion of his great duties.
The steamer Northland Echo, of the Northern Trading Company's fleet, has arrived here with thirty passengers, including the drilling crew of the Imperial Oil Company from Fort Norman, where operations are being closed down.
Judge Dubuc and his party are coming by the steamer Havelo River next Thursday.

Pay Death Penalty
OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—The report from Fort McMurray that three Eskimos have been sentenced at the Herschel Island Royal Canadian Mounted Police station makes it clear that the law will be avenged on the death of Corporal Doak, of the R.C.M.P., and Otto Binder, a white trader.

It was stated at the R.C.M.P. headquarters tonight that some seven Eskimos were to be tried on charges connected with the fatal shooting of the white trader and the white trader, in which a number of the natives had been slain.
One Eskimo connected with the fatal shooting was arrested by Corporal Doak and taken to the Tree River station. Here he secured access to a rifle and shot and killed Corporal Doak, and then, in the same fashion, killed Otto Binder, manager of a Hudson's Bay trading post, who had been associated with the quarrel.
It is regarded as certain that one of the Eskimos who has received sentence of death is this double murderer.

COMMUNISTS PLAN FOR REVOLUTION

Mine Workers of America Assert Americans Are Being Deceived to Contribute to Red Campaign

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Collection of funds from American people of high and low degree in promotion of social, economic and political revolution has become an organized industry in the last two years. It is charged by the United Mine Workers of America, in an article of a series which purports to be an expose of a far-reaching plot to spread the dictatorship of the Communist Internationale at Moscow over this continent.

Laborers, society leaders, school teachers and well-meaning philanthropists, ignorant of the menace they are promoting, are millions of dollars annually to the war chest of the underground workers for revolution in America, it is charged.
Captures of the mine union is alleged to be the first aim of Communist agents in this country, as a step toward establishment of the "One Big Union" principle in all industrial labor organizations.

After that, nationalization of the coal mines under the Soviet form of rule as a preliminary to nationalization of other industries, then, forcible overthrow of the governments existing in the United States and Canada and establishment of Communism after the Moscow pattern.

Belgium Will Give Full Reparations Data

BRUSSELS, Sept. 12.—A Belgian grey book to be given to the press on Friday comprises fifty-four documents embodying the entire correspondence exchanged on the reparations questions among the Allied governments from December 26, 1922, to August 27, 1923.

One of these documents gives the text of the Belgian plan, aiming to show that Germany could pay annually three billion francs in gold, which would guarantee an international loan of fifty billion francs, or approximately the sum claimed by the principal Allies.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 12.—A Percy Faget, of Winnipeg, was re-elected president of the Canadian Council of Child Welfare at the annual business meeting here this afternoon in connection with the convention. Other officers elected were: Dr. Helen Reid, Montreal, and Brother Bernabeau, Toronto, vice-presidents, and Miss Charlotte Whitten, Ottawa, honorary secretary.

Germany Prepared To Offer Terms to Get Rid of Allies

Chancellor Stresemann Admits That France Has Won Fight in Ruhr Section and Reparations Guarantees Must Be Given—Passive Resistance Policy Has Failed, He Suggests

OFFERS PLEDGES WHICH WILL MEET DEMANDS OF ALLIES

BERLIN, Sept. 12.—Tacitly admitting that the Ruhr fight had been lost and that there could be no prospect of the internal reconstruction of Germany until the foreign conflict had been adjusted, Chancellor Stresemann tonight remarked to a gathering of editors:
"Candor is preferable to illusion, and Germany desires to speak out plainly."
Informal contact with the occupying powers had revealed the gravity of the existing differences which, he said, primarily involved the question of German sovereignty and the restoration to Germany of complete administrative freedom in the Ruhr.

The Chancellor's speech did not contain a direct reference to readiness on the part of Germany to call off passive resistance unconditionally, but presented a more precise formulation of the nature of the reparations guarantees which Germany was prepared to pledge for the security of the reparations creditors.

The King of Jugo-Slavia

KING ALEXANDER
The youthful Italian monarch, whose government has informed France that it supports Italy, Jugo-Slavia will support Greece.

Offers Security
These would comprise the hypothecation of private holdings in industry, commerce, finance and agriculture, in such a manner as to insure their immediate liquidity as active assets. Such security, said the Chancellor, would, in every way, be superior to the pledges prescribed in the Versailles Treaty which only enumerate governmental properties, none of which possess productiveness equaling that of private holdings, which Germany proposes to hypothecate for the benefit of reparations.

Unless France is bent on annexation, Germany's pledges, he contended, were of such a nature as to meet the conditions under which France once was prepared to evacuate the occupied areas. He believed that the positive guarantees offered by Germany would impress Great Britain and Italy with their desire to achieve a solution of the problem, and would suggest to Belgium their inability as a means of overcoming the deadlock and open the way to European reconstruction.

Works for Solidarity
"For us," said the Chancellor, "the question of the sovereignty of the Rhineland and regaining the freedom of the Ruhr territory is decisive. For it we are ready to give real guarantees."
M. Poincare, in a recent speech, said he preferred the positive securities which France had in hand to the finest theoretical rights. He did not intend to exchange pledges for guarantees, and emphasized further that the guarantees suggested belonged to the mortgage which the Treaty of Versailles gave to the Allies on the entire possessions of the Reich.

Ask Condemnation of Landahl Steel Scheme

Special Committee Foresees Dangers Ahead of Coast Range Project Owing to High Price of Raw Materials and Outside Competition—Postpone Action Until Monday

AFTER listening to condemnation of the Coast Range Steel plan by a special Chamber of Commerce committee, headed by Hon. F. A. Pauline, M. P., and engaging in a general discussion as to the merits and defects of this $15,000,000 government-bonus scheme, a conference of Victoria and up-island businessmen, assembled yesterday under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, decided to postpone action on the proposal until next Monday.

GREECE ASKS AID OF THE ALBANIANS

ROME, Sept. 12.—A dispatch to The Corriere d'Italia, of Santi Quaranta, says the Greek Government has sent a communication to the Albanian Government asking for the arrest of the Albanians who, it is declared, assassinated the Italian boundary mission headed by General Tellini.
The Albanians, according to the dispatch, replied that the assassins were not Albanians, but Greeks, and that the Albanians were ready with pleasure to cross the Greek frontier in order to arrest them, if Greece could not.

TORONTO, Sept. 12.—Leading bank authorities here today said the payment of an interim dividend of twenty-five cents on the dollar to depositors of the suspended Home Bank, as forecast here, would be impracticable pending the Curator's statement.

PREMIER WILL SPEAK FOR CITY

Agrees to Take Active Part in Presentation of Evidence Before the Royal Grain Commission

C.N.P. AGREEMENT TO BE EMPHASIZED

Mr. R. T. Elliott, K.C., Completes the Preparation of Brief, Setting Forth Victoria's Case

PREMIER John Oliver agreed yesterday to go before the Royal Grain Commission when it sits here tomorrow and assist in the presentation of Victoria's case in the freight rates question.

The Premier will impress upon the commission the fact that when the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway, which subsequently became a part of the Canadian National system, was undertaken special articles were drawn up conferring upon Victoria equality of terminal rates to Mainland ports.

The Premier will also emphasize the fact that the city-owned portion of the Johnson Street Bridge structure is free to all railway traffic for which running privileges are granted by the city. He will also speak on the general question of equalization of freight rates.

Mr. R. T. Elliott, K.C., will be in charge of Victoria's case before the Royal Grain Commission when it opens its sessions at the Parliament Buildings tomorrow morning. Mr. Elliott has been working on the preparation of his brief for some time, and early this Spring, on the occasion of the visit here of Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railway, he presented arguments in favor of the establishment of a grain elevator and other facilities here to insure Victoria's obtaining a large share of the west-bound grain traffic from the Prairies.

BRITAIN INSISTS ON EVACUATION

Settlement of Greco-Italian Dispute Difficult

Council of Ambassadors Finds Difficulty—Corfu Must Be Evacuated, England Demands

PARIS, Sept. 12.—Arrangement of details for a settlement of the Italian-Greek conflict is proving laborious. The Council of Ambassadors, with Sheldon Whitehouse, counselor of the embassy, representing the United States as observer, held two sittings today but without arriving at a final agreement.

The instructions of Premier Mussolini, of Italy, received in reply to the report of yesterday's proceedings of the Council of Ambassadors, which were unsatisfactory to all the ambassadors.
It is understood on the best authority that the Greek member of the council is insisting on the evacuation of Corfu as soon as the mode of settlement of the dispute is agreed upon by the council in all its details, and accepted by the directly interested parties, while Signor Mussolini wants to hold the islands until the investigation into the killing of the Italian member of the council is completed and a boundary commission is completed and all acts of reparations fully carried out.

Look For Settlement
The members of the Council of Ambassadors, after the afternoon session today, admitted that there had been encountered in preparing a settlement, but were quite sure that the details would be worked out satisfactorily.

Baron Avenza, tonight, sent Premier Mussolini full report of today's session, with the text of the instructions which he had given to the committee inquiring into the murder of the Italian. It is hoped that Mussolini's reply will arrive in Paris so that the council can meet tomorrow afternoon and finish with the details preliminary to the investigation into the killings as well as with the question of evacuation of Corfu.

Early Start Upon the Second Narrows Bridge

VANCOUVER, Sept. 12.—Reeve Jack Louist, of North Vancouver, president of the Burrard Inlet Bridge & Tunnel Co., received a telegram from Ottawa this morning announcing that the federal government for the bond issue have been passed to satisfy the contractors, thus enabling a start on the second Narrows Bridge.

"We accordingly have authorized the contractors to commence on this project," said Mr. Louist. Preliminary work should be started in the next few days, he said.

New Apartment Hotel

VANCOUVER, Sept. 12.—The contract was awarded this morning for the construction of an apartment hotel on the northeast corner of Georgia and Hornby streets, opposite the court house, which will cost $150,000. Vancouver and British Columbia is interested, and the operating company will be known as Georgia Limited.

OUR FUTURE KING

PRINCE OF WALES NOW IN CANADA

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS LOOKS
PICTURE OF HEALTH

Reaches Quebec, and Is Now En Route on Trip to His Alberta Ranch on Holiday

QUEBEC, Sept. 12.—The Prince of Wales will make no public appearance during his present visit to Canada, as Lord Renfrew, and will not go to the United States.

This announcement was made this afternoon on behalf of the Prince by Sir Godfrey Thomas, his secretary. Sir Godfrey added that the Prince only made one engagement so far and that was to stay in Ottawa some time with Lord Byng, the Governor-General. Sir Godfrey pointed out that the Prince was on a visit to get away from the fixed programme, that normally his life consisted of. No announcement could be made as to when he would leave his ranch in the West, to which he was proceeding direct tomorrow. The only fixed date in his holiday was the day he would sail for home from Quebec on the Empress of France, on October 13.

In Good Health

The Prince looked the picture of health and his appearance denied reports from England that he was run down after close attention to his many arduous duties as the heir to the throne. His face was rosy and he looked as positively boyish as he did on the occasion of his previous visit to Canada. He wore a grey suit and grey frock coat. Indeed he was, in appearance, exactly the same as when he was here before.

This afternoon the Prince found time for a quiet walk through the streets of Quebec to do some shopping. He also visited the citadel. One of the first things the Prince did when he got to his hotel was to ask that a game of golf be arranged for him for this afternoon. This was done and he played over the course of the Quebec club.

On Real Vacation

The Prince of Wales, who has come to Canada for a rest up from red-tape and a life necessarily planned weeks ahead, began his vacation in real earnest here today. He had not landed an hour when he started out to act just like Lord Renfrew—the title he takes on this trip—and did not like the heir to the throne. He came down from his room at the Chateau Frontenac and wandered around the grounds for a while.

Splendid Isolation Is His Suggestion

Reforestation Is Best Method to Hold Empire's Forest Value

SEATTLE, Sept. 12.—"Although the British Empire has more than twice the timbered area the United States has, we feel concern at the rate of depletion, and are speeding efforts to assure a perpetual supply through reforestation," Major-General Lord Lovat, chief of the British Forestry Commission, said today.

He is in Seattle on a tour of the United States and Canada, studying forestry problems. He had planned a visit to the Suak River region of the Snoqualmie national forest today with Colonel W. E. Greeley, chief of the United States Forestry Service, but on learning of the presence of a reforestation commission of the United States, he remained to attend the hearing of lumbermen and forestry officials at the New Washington Hotel today. He and Colonel Greeley will go to the Suak River tomorrow.

JAPAN HIDES EXTENT OF RECENT DISASTER

Strict Censorship Is in Force and Official Circles Have Taken Over All Means of Communication—Natives Attribute Earthquake and Subsequent Fire to "Foreign Devils"

Canadians Play Large Part in Rescue Work

SHANGHAI, Sept. 12.—Refugees here say a strict censorship is in force in Japan. Government circles, they said, have sealed all ships' radios and have prohibited the sending of even private messages from Tokyo and vicinity.

Other refugees reported that many illiterate Japanese attribute the earthquake and fire to the influence of "foreign devils"; still other Japanese of low grade intelligence, they say, have spread rumors that the earthquake was caused by an explosion of Standard Oil tanks.

Japanese officials are doing everything possible to prevent circulation of such rumors.

OSAKA, Sept. 11.—What is reported to be an official compilation of the earthquake casualties estimates the dead, injured and missing at 1,356,749. It is also estimated that a total of 315,824 houses were destroyed.

TOKIO, Sept. 12.—Deaths from the earthquake, fires and tidal waves in and around Tokyo were estimated today to number 150,000. Groups of one hundred and more bodies have been found in various spots. Dysentery is prevalent.

The duty on building material imports has been removed. Reactional earthquakes have fallen in number to twenty daily.

POWERS URGED TO RESPECT LEAGUE

BRITAIN'S REPRESENTATIVE DEFENDS PART POLICY

Lord Robert Cecil Declares Nations' League Has Not Failed—Persian Prince Makes Suggestions

GENEVA, Sept. 12.—A lively discussion over the covenant of the League of Nations, which Hjalmar Branting, Premier of Sweden, charged had shown itself to be fragile in practice, gave the Geneva deliberations again a dramatic tone today. The sub-commission was considering the proposed pact for mutual assistance, which was provisionally arranged at Paris as a compromise to the British and French conceptions of the project, when M. Branting arose and said the treaty appeared to be all guarantees and no disarmament, and more coercive than conciliatory.

After all, he declared, the covenant of the league had in practice proved ineffective. He questioned whether it was wise to adopt the more stringent measures provided in the new treaty when they could not enforce things already existing.

Effective Measures

TOKIO, Sept. 12.—The work of clearing up the debris of the quake and fire is under way in Tokyo. The street car system employees have been mobilized and are clearing the tracks of the burned street cars, and workmen are repairing such of the damaged buildings as can be made habitable for use of the refugees and homeless.

While some of the foreigners, more pessimistic than the Japanese, have let it become known that they intend to transfer their business to Osaka or Kobe, abandoning Tokyo and Yokohama, or reducing their enterprises there to branches, the Japanese business men declare their intention of making the capital a city greater than ever. They cite as an incentive to this the remarkable building of San Francisco after the disaster of 1906. Distribution of supplies, including even fresh food, is under way. The military have the situation well in hand. An observation system of balloons hanging over the city, carrying observers able to overlook large areas and report promptly any incident requiring attention, is in operation.

Canadian Relief

SHANGHAI, Sept. 11.—The liner Empress of Australia, which remained in the zone of the Japanese disaster for nine days before she took 200 foreign refugees to Kobe, was part of a scene in Yokohama that might have illustrated a canto from Dante's "Inferno."

Passengers arriving in Shanghai on the Empress of Canada are describing the plight of the other liner. A few hours after the first great earthquake, the Yokohama waterfront was a huge torus. Flaming oil and burning sampans had made the harbor a lantern sea of fire. The steamship, hovering pitifully alone in the wharves, her officers ashore rescuing foreigners, was surrounded by a narrow circle of fire that seemed about to engulf her. So fierce was the heat that it seemed impossible for anyone to stay on deck. Yet the uninjured passengers joined as best they could in fighting off the flames.

R.N.W.P. VETERANS ASK FOR PENSIONS

Want Greater Consideration From Government for Old-War Members of Famous Force

EDMONTON, Sept. 12.—Lieut.-Col. W. C. Bryan, head of the Alberta Provincial Police Force, was elected by acclamation to be the 1924 president of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police Veterans' Association of Canada, at the annual meeting held today evening at the Board of Trade rooms, following a banquet in honor of the visiting delegates.

Resolutions were adopted at the meeting for a continuation at Ottawa of the agitation for an annual bonus which will serve to increase the inadequate pensions paid to veterans of the famous old force. Pressure will also be brought to bear on the Dominion government for the awarding of the Imperial service medal to veterans of the forces who have served for twenty-five years or more, and also securing of Riel rebellion medals for a number of members of the Old Guard, who have still not received them.

Rev. H. C. Lewis Hooper, of Vancouver, was elected chaplain. The executive includes: George Will, Prince Albert; J. J. Roberts, Vancouver; C. F. L. Money, Victoria.

High Commissioner Must Pay Tax Due On Canadian Estate

TORONTO, Sept. 12.—Although Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian High Commissioner in London, has a residence in London, England, his taxable income of $71,893 is assessable here, according to a written judgment given today by P. H. Drayton, chairman of the Toronto court of revision. The judgment says:

"The fact that the salary of Mr. Larkin is placed in his credit in the books of the company, to be dealt with by him as he sees fit, makes no difference in the opinion of the court, and his income is therefore assessable."

MR. OLIVER LOOKS FOR FEDERAL JOB

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—Hon. Frank Oliver, who has been mentioned as the probable choice of the government for the vacant post on the Board of Railway Commissioners, is in town and called at the office of the Prime Minister this morning.

Premier King is out of town, but Mr. Oliver spent some time with Hon. W. S. Fielding, Acting Premier.

HON. DR. TOLMIE IS VERY OPTIMISTIC

Sees Conservative Victory Through-out Western Provinces—B.C. Will Follow Ontario, He Says

MONTREAL, Sept. 12.—Dr. S. F. Tolmie, minister of agriculture in the Meighen Government, interviewed here last night, spoke in most optimistic terms of political conditions in connection with the Conservative party.

He claimed that the whole position of the western provinces had been very greatly improved in a political way by the splendid results attained by the party in the recent Ontario elections, and this had been pressed home by the results in Prince Edward Island and the excellent showing of the Conservatives in the last provincial election in Quebec.

Dr. Tolmie thought people were getting tired of group government, and he forecast the return of the Conservatives to power in the next Manitoba election.

The same thing would, he thought, occur in British Columbia, his own home province.

VANCOUVER URGES TRADE PREFERENCE

HAS PLAN TO INCREASE INTER-EMPIRE TRADE

Too Many of Empire Bonds Are Leaving British Territory to Settle Elsewhere, It Claims

VANCOUVER, Sept. 12.—The Canadian Government will be urged by the Vancouver Board of Trade to take a definite stand at the Imperial Conference in London next month, such as Australia and South Africa have assumed, in asking Great Britain to grant to the Dominion the same favorable trade preference that the Dominions have given Great Britain for years past.

This decision was reached at a meeting of the board last night. It was also decided to wage a campaign for the abolition of the personal property tax in British Columbia.

In discussing preferential trade within the Empire, it was declared that there was something wrong when forty million people of British stock in recent years have given resources of the Empire to settle, while resources of the British Dominions are waiting for men to develop them.

NATIONS' LEAGUE DOES GOOD WORK

Lord Robert Cecil Cheered When He Points to Results—Work for Women and Children

GENEVA, Sept. 12.—Prevention of traffic in women and children is the aim of comprehensive resolutions adopted yesterday by the Commission of the League of Nations.

Announcement was made that the total expense this year of conducting the secretariat of the League and also the international law bureau and permanent court of international justice was 25,000,000 gold francs, a saving of 3 per cent over the previous year.

Serfdom exists in Ethiopia (Abyssinia), but slavery is under the ban of the law, the delegation from that African empire has informed the League of Nations. Ethiopia's application for admission to the League is said to be in danger of rejection because of allegations that slavery on a large scale prevails in her domain.

The delegation declared to the League that the slave trade was forbidden and punishable by death. What did exist, it said, was a form of agricultural serfdom, similar to that existing in many European countries before the introduction of the wage system. The serfs could not be bought or sold and could appeal to the courts if ill-treated.

The assembly this morning resumed its discussion of Austrian reconstruction. Lord Robert Cecil, who received an extraordinary ovation lasting several minutes, delivered an address of congratulation over the results obtained by the League in the carrying out of its Austrian rehabilitation plan.

Only the League, declared Lord Robert, could have performed this feat. It was set forth, because the League, from its very nature, excited no international jealousy.

INAUGURATES NEW CURRENCY PLAN

GERMANY DECIDES ON NEW GOLD BASIS PLAN

Starts New Bank Issue to Offset Prevailing Drop of the Mark—Stringent Measures

BERLIN, Sept. 12.—Gold, foreign currencies and commercial bills will serve at first to cover the new currency which, as a result of yesterday's cabinet decision, will be issued on a gold basis from a new bank issue, according to The Vossische Zeitung.

The government, the newspaper says, believes it will be able to furnish sufficient guarantees to keep the new bank from becoming a tool of the private interests, but no decision has yet been made regarding the amount of capital or the organization of the institution.

The paper marks will not for the present be withdrawn from circulation so that, as in the case in Russia, two currencies will soon be legal tender. The currency controller will regulate from today all precious metal, such as gold, silver, platinum, whether raw or half metal, or mixed with alloys in coinage. Finished and plated goods are exempt. Persons possessing precious metals must declare them before September 21. The controller will also issue regulations strictly limiting the scope of the operations of institutions dealing in foreign exchange.

WESTERN INFLUENCE PROVES TOO STRONG

Maritime Governments Urged to Take Steps to Help Immigrants From the Old Land

HALIFAX, Sept. 12.—Vigorous discussion around a resolution that the Maritime Provincial Governments unite on establishing immigration agencies throughout Great Britain, introduced at the Maritime Boards of Trade convention here yesterday.

H. J. Logan, M.P. for Cumberland County, declared it was useless for the Maritime Provinces to expect to obtain any adequate immigration through the Federal Department of Immigration, as it is to the interests of both the Federal Government and the railways to direct immigration to the Western provinces.

He suggested that the Federal Government give a bonus toward such an enterprise.

The development of agriculture and an appeal for the development of fisheries and of import and export trade throughout the Maritime ports was advocated.

Winnipeg Police Officer and Family Victims of Accident

ST. PAUL, Sept. 12.—Alex Boal, a member of the Winnipeg morality squad, has a broken leg and a fractured skull and is not expected to live. His wife and his wife's sister, Mrs. M. Sigurdson, of this city, were killed instantly and their bodies were thrown 100 feet when the car in which they were riding was struck by a Northern Pacific train.

Bernard Ballin, Winnipeg, driver of the car, sustained minor injuries. Reginald Boal, 14, and Margaret Boal, 12, children of Alex. Boal, each has a broken leg, but they will recover.

CHOLERA INFANTUM A FATAL DISEASE OF CHILDREN

Cholera infantum or Summer complaint of children is one of the most dangerous bowel complaints during the summer months.

It begins with a profuse diarrhoea, the stomach becomes irritated, very often accompanied by vomiting and purging and the matter excreted from the stomach has a bilious appearance. The child rapidly loses flesh, is soon reduced to languor and prostration, and in a great many cases death ensues.

Mother, if any of your children become sick with cholera infantum, do not endanger their health, perhaps their life, by experimenting with some new and untried remedy; get out that has stood the test of time; one that will quickly offset the vomiting, purging and the diarrhoea. This you will find in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, a remedy that has been on the market for the past 75 years.

Mrs. W. A. Harrison, 10 Elevator Court, Halifax, N.S., writes: "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry saved the lives of three of my children when all other remedies failed. It stopped the vomiting and terrible diarrhoea, with which they were troubled. I always keep a bottle of it on hand in case of emergency."

"Dr. Fowler's" is 50c a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. (Adv.)

GREECE SEARCHES FOR ASSASSINS

Italian Government Doubts Greek Investigation—Holds Corfu as Specious Pledge

PARIS, Sept. 12.—At the request of Baron Avezano, Italian Ambassador, the Ambassadors' Council postponed its meeting yesterday afternoon until today. Baron Avezano said that he had not yet received instructions from Rome regarding the evacuation of Corfu.

Although it was not specifically mentioned at the Ambassadors' meeting, it is averred in other quarters that the principal representative of the Greek Government, in the search for the assassins of the Italian members of the boundary commission, is Colonel Bolzaris, Greek member of the Commission.

The Italian Government has made no representations to the Ambassadors' Council reflecting on him, but dispatches from Rome indicate he is greatly distrusted in Italian quarters.

Held as Pledge

ROME, Sept. 12.—Italy will vacate the island of Corfu when she has obtained the fulfilment of the reparations she has demanded from Greece. It was stated at the meeting of the Council of Ministers today.

The council met under the presidency of Premier Mussolini, who told of the negotiations that had taken place and the measures adopted to guarantee the rights of Italy.

Corfu, it was set forth, was regarded as a mere pledge for the carrying out of the punishment to which Greece must submit for the crime of Janina.

Belgrade Interested

BELGRADE, Sept. 12.—A full account of the reasons for the failure to reach an agreement with Italy in the negotiations over Plume has been drawn up by M. Titubay, the principal Jugo-Slav envoy, and will be submitted by Premier Pachitch to the cabinet council.

Marshall Franchet d'Esperey, of France, has arrived in Belgrade.

DISTURBANCES IN GERMANY REPORTED

Police Fire Upon Employees at Dresden—Leipzig in Bankruptcy—Reparations Issue to Fore

BERLIN, Sept. 12.—Quiet has been restored in Dresden, where a demonstration by employees yesterday caused the police to fire on a crowd outside the city hall; it was officially announced today.

No one was killed, the official report states, but thirteen rioters were wounded.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The Daily Mail's Berlin correspondent says the city of Leipzig declared itself bankrupt yesterday. The municipal coffers are empty and the city is unable to pay its employees. A delegation has been sent to Berlin to ask the central government to advance funds.

Await Statement

BERLIN, Sept. 12.—Chancellor Stresemann's address to the German Diet was awaited with interest today in view of the government's admission that informal "reconvening" conversations on reparations are in progress "with all powers," including France, and the announcement that he might throw further light on Germany's position with regard to the Ruhr.

The newspapers concede that a change in the situation is about to take place; the Nationalist press being of the opinion that this will be nothing short of capitulation.

The government itself is apparently determined to get the Ruhr Valley in working order once more, inasmuch as the industrial area will be needed in the negotiations that eventually settle the reparations deadlock.

TORONTO, Sept. 12.—Among the students-at-law to be called to the Bar here tomorrow will be Dan Solomon Denberg, graduate of the Manitoba University, who was the subject of an act passed at the last session of the Ontario Legislature. This act authorized the Law Society of Upper Canada to admit him to practice in Ontario at the Bar as a solicitor.

Sound sleep is health insurance

There are no exceptions to the law of sleep. If it is deep and tranquil, it is man's best medicine and restorative. If it is light or troubled, it inflicts a penalty because it makes further drains on your strength and energy.

Yet thousands select their sleep equipment without giving it more than passing attention. Too often, they pay for this neglect in impaired health, lack of energy and scant personal success.

Doubtless your choice was more intelligently made. Unless you are an exception to the general rule, however, you know less right now about your spring and mattress than about any other prime necessity you use.

SAYS EMBARGO ON PACIFIC COAST

GRAIN INQUIRY TOLD OF EAST-ERN ELEVATOR METHODS

Line Storage Houses on Prairies Want All the Business, Says Vancouver Witness Before Commission

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 12.—An announcement was made here this afternoon of several changes in the itinerary of the Royal Grain Inquiry Commission. Under their arranged schedule the Commission will not leave for Prince Rupert until Monday night, arriving there Wednesday, September 19. Sitings will be held in Prince Rupert Thursday and Friday, September 21. The party will leave for Edmonton, arriving there Sunday night. Under the new arrangements they will sit in Calgary September 25 and 26, and will sit in Medicine Hat, September 27 and 28.

Although efforts are being made to have the Commission visit the Peace River Country before concluding its sittings, no arrangements have been announced. Chairman W. F. A. Targue has stated. The matter was receiving consideration by the Commission, he said.

Sittings will be held Thursday at New Westminster, and Friday at Victoria.

Blames Elevators

Line elevator companies were responsible for the embargo on wheat going to Vancouver, according to W. L. Lawler, former grain man, who appeared before the Commission here today. Mr. Lawler said the line elevator companies, desiring the farmers to ship through their eastern elevators, had caused the embargo. This would force the farmers to send their grain through the companies' terminal elevators, where it could be mixed. Also the companies would not have to pay the premium to the farmers as was done last year, when farmers shipped by the western route, he said.

Mr. Lawler thought the line companies should erect terminal elevators here. The Canada Grain Act should be amended, he said, to give Vancouver a sample market. This, with the proper facilities, would make Vancouver the greatest grain exporting port in the world, he said.

Statements showing amounts of grain shipped from this port by two grain companies for the year ending June 30 were presented at the opening of the morning session of the Commission. The western route branch manager of the Alberta Pacific Grain Company, said his company exported to the United Kingdom a total of 3,848,170 bushels. To the Orient the company exported 323,876.40 bushels.

Export Shipments

W. L. Craig, of the W. L. Craig Grain Company, said his company, acting for James H. Keith & Co., Limited, Winnipeg, had made export sales of 1,708,698 bushels of wheat through this port. Export shipments through Vancouver, he said, amounted to 4,569,164.44 bushels. This evidence, counsel explained, was introduced to show that, while some of the grain company heads were not actively supporting the embargo route, they were shipping a good deal of their grain through Vancouver.

Co-operative marketing, the western grain route, said a coal policy for Canada were some of the matters referred to by Mr. R. J. Cromie, publisher of The Vancouver Sun, before the Commission. He declared that farming was the only big business that was not organized. The only chance farmers had to keep abreast with modern business was to adopt economic methods similar to those used by large industrial corporations.

A coal policy, Mr. Cromie said, was indispensably connected with the fiscal policy of the country. The greater part of the eighty million dollars paid by Canada last year to the United States for coal should have been kept at home. The importing and development of a coal policy, he said, would develop the West, building up markets for the farmers.

Coal Policy Needed

He thought Eastern Canada was equally interested. The problem of transportation appeared insurmountable only because Canada had not developed a coal policy. Mr. Cromie believed the question meant so much to Western Canada and western grain growers that it deserved the earnest consideration of the Commission.

W. A. Rae, a former member of the Alberta Legislature for Peace River, told of conditions at present existing in that area. Wheat raising in the Peace River Country, Mr. Rae said, was a losing proposition under present conditions. High freight rates, combined with the present marketing system, were causing the farmer to lose money. At present, owing to high marketing costs, the farmer started to lose money before he had put his wheat seed in the ground. For this reason, the farmers were extremely interested in the development of the Vancouver route. They believed, with proper development, it would go a long way toward reducing their marketing costs.

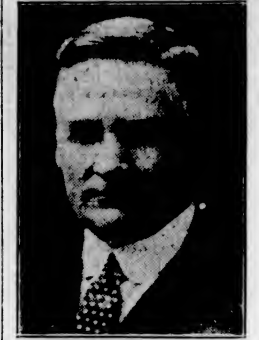

Mr. Rae asked that the Vancouver businessmen duplicate the grain-handling machinery of Winnipeg. Until this was done, the Peace River farmers could not market their grain profitably, he said.

An invitation for the Commission to visit the Peace River Country was received at the opening of the session. It was tendered by A. H. Shaw, president of the Spirit River Board of Trade.

WINNIPEG SOLICITOR FOR HIGH POSITION

E. J. McMurray, K.C., is Mentioned as Next Federal Solicitor-General—Means By Election

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—Official announcement of the appointment of E. J. McMurray, Liberal member for North Winnipeg, to the post of Solicitor-General in the Dominion Government is expected shortly.

Mr. McMurray's name has been repeatedly mentioned in connection with the vacancy which occurred through the resignation of Hon. D. D. McKenzie on his appointment to the bench of Nova Scotia.

The appointment of Mr. McMurray would necessitate the holding of a by-election in the constituency of North Winnipeg.

COMMISSIONER GETS SIX MONTHS' TERM

Magistrate Severely Characterizes Offence of R. C. Gibson in Forging Names for Voters' List

Six months' imprisonment was the sentence imposed in the police court yesterday upon R. C. Gibson, who pleaded guilty before Magistrate Jay last Monday to two charges of forging the names of applicants on the Provincial Voters' List. A six-month term was given on each charge, but the sentences were made concurrent. In passing sentence, the magistrate said that it did not appear that the motive for the offence was personal gain to the prisoner, and if it had been so there would have been no option but to visit the crime with a long term in prison. As it was, however, the offence was sufficiently serious. Any fraud in such a connection struck at the foundation of the country's political system, and could not be lightly condoned. The magistrate said that Gibson had forged applications for Provincial registration on the voters' list in the names of Mrs. Clara E. Simpson and Miss Annie Simpson, Graham Street. Through his counsel, Mr. P. J. Sinnott, the accused pleaded guilty, and declaring that he had acted in ignorance and not with wilful intent to commit a crime, asked for the leniency of suspended sentence.

No Gain to Accused

Reviewing the facts yesterday, Magistrate Jay said that Gibson had been appointed a commissioner for taking the affidavits of applicants for the voters' list. He had signed the names not only of the persons mentioned in the specific charges, but also those of several others; and had then, in each case, signed his own name to a sworn declaration that he had witnessed the applicant's own personal signing of the declaration, and was a crime so serious in the eye of the law that it was punishable with a term of seven years in prison.

It was to be observed, continued the court, that whatever motive the prisoner had had, there was one feature which was common to all the offences. Any fraud in such a connection struck at the foundation of the country's political system, and could not be lightly condoned. The magistrate said that Gibson had forged applications for Provincial registration on the voters' list in the names of Mrs. Clara E. Simpson and Miss Annie Simpson, Graham Street. Through his counsel, Mr. P. J. Sinnott, the accused pleaded guilty, and declaring that he had acted in ignorance and not with wilful intent to commit a crime, asked for the leniency of suspended sentence.

Not to Be Passed Over

"I do not know what the motive was in this case," concluded the magistrate; "but I cannot accept the plea that this offence was committed in ignorance. The application forms themselves are clear in the directions given for filling them in. You have not only forged these names, but you have aggravated the offence by swearing to a false statement, that these applicants had properly made an affidavit before you."

"If I thought that you had done this for your own gain, I should have felt obliged to impose a long sentence. As it is, it is sufficiently serious. Any fraud in such a connection struck at the foundation of our political system, and makes this crime a matter of serious public concern. I think I should impose such a penalty as will mark the serious nature of what you have done. You will be sentenced to serve six months in prison in each of the charges, the terms to run concurrently."

ASK FOR TENDERS FOR CEMETERY BUILDING

Combined Residence and Office of Superintendent to Be Built—Appointment Left Over

The Cemetery Board yesterday decided to call at once for tenders for a combined residence and office for the superintendent. The building, which will be located just inside the entrance to the new cemetery at Royal Oak, is expected to cost from $2,000 to $2,500.

The tender of the Canadian Pipe Company for a 12,000-gallon water tank was accepted.

Debitures totalling $10,000 will be issued immediately by the board and it is expected that a very good price will be received for them.

MOUNTED OFFICER FACES TRIAL TODAY

MR. J. B. PATTULLO, K.C., ENGAGED BY DEFENCE

City Prosecutor Repeats Allegation That Ottawa Man Tried to Quash Prosecution

Intimations that pressure from Government officials in Ottawa to have quashed the charges against Special Constables W. L. Smith and F. W. Eccles, of the Vancouver force of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, had been felt by him, were made in the police court yesterday by City Prosecutor Harrison, when the accused, together with Frank Williams, longshoreman, also charged with having illegal possession of opium, were further remanded for trial until today.

The accused, who were arrested in a local hotel three weeks ago by Customs Officer J. C. Barton, made their fourth appearance in court yesterday, when they were expected to stand summary trial on the charge. Mr. G. H. S. Helsterman, who has been defence counsel up to this time, informed the court that he would be obliged to ask for a further remand until this morning, when Mr. J. B. Pattullo, K.C., of Vancouver, would appear for the defence. Mr. Helsterman said that Mr. Pattullo had been instructed to act by the commanding officer of the mounted police, and would not be able to appear in court until this morning. The remand had been approved by the Attorney-General, said Mr. Helsterman.

Prosecutor's Statement

Mr. Harrison said that in view of the frequent remands granted in connection with the proceedings, it was proper that he should make a statement to the court. Last Monday Mr. Helsterman, in a verbal communication, had informed him that the prosecution was to be withdrawn upon instructions from Ottawa. Next day he had been informed by Customs Officer Barton that Mr. Barton had also been notified from Ottawa to the same effect.

"I said that I would not consent," declared the City Prosecutor, emphatically; "and it must be understood that I am going to proceed. I have conferred with the Attorney-General, and he shares my view. I do not object to the present remand, which, I understand, is asked so that Mr. Pattullo may appear for the defence."

A Cause Celebre

It will be alleged against the accused that they were found here by customs officers in unlawful possession of 50 lbs of opium. The three men were arrested in a hotel room. It is alleged that two other persons, a man and a woman, alleged also to be implicated in the charges, made their escape. Eccles and Smith are plain clothes officers of the drug traffic suppression squad of the mounted police. They were arrested by the Vancouver office of the force; and their counsel has already intimated that their defence will be that they were engaged in the necessary work of their special duty, and were acting under the instructions of superior officers. Frank Williams, the third person of the accused party, is said to be a local longshoreman.

Great interest attaches to the proceedings, not alone because two of the accused men are members of the I.C.M.P., but because they are by a special officer of the Customs service, but also because the preliminaries of the prosecution have shown that more than one official of the Ottawa Department of State has been stirred by the arrests. City Prosecutor Harrison has on several occasions more than hinted that efforts to suppress the prosecution had been made in Ottawa, and this has been denied by the defence. When the case was remanded for the second time last week, Magistrate Jay expressed the opinion that in view of all that had been said on both sides it was essential in the public interest that there should be the fullest investigation of the charges.

A knowledge of English among miners would save 1,000 lives annually, it is estimated.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Rosita Forbes, the English explorer, has returned to London after a trip through Morocco and announced that she was the first

She stayed for eleven days in the brigand chief's mountain stronghold where he holds court with his two wives, nine daughters, three sons and three slaves. The explorer said that Raskull, who claims a pedigree that goes back to Normandy, has a surprising knowledge of European politics.

FEDERAL FINANCES

Canada's borrowings for war purposes from 1914-1919 totalled $1,908,587,528, made up as follows:

War Loan, 1915	$ 42,014,500
War Loan, 1916	52,931,600
War Loan, 1917	90,166,900
Victory Loan, 1917	482,570,600
Victory Loan, 1918	619,134,950
Victory Loan, 1919	619,866,300
War Savings and Thrift
Stamps	1,902,678

Total $1,908,587,528

This total constituted 79 per cent of the net debt of this country on March 31, 1922.

This is tantamount to saying that on that date, had there been no war, Canada's national debt would have been $513,548,000.

The ordinary expenditure of this country in 1922 was $347,500,000, and in this were included the following items which are directly chargeable to the war:

Interest on War Loans	$104,037,234
Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment	17,781,303
Soldiers' Land Settlement	2,282,713
Demobilization	9,171,626
War Pensions	34,828,787

Total $168,101,663

The charges arising out of the war thus account for the sum given in the above table.

In commenting on the war debt and the other charges arising out of that event, The Montreal Gazette points also to the debt and the National Railway charges, which it describes as "fixed and irrevocable," and suggests that the pruning knife should be applied to administrative services generally. It lays its finger on the reason why there has not been a greater return to prosperity in saying that taxation is now a clog upon business and that budget balancing should come from reduced expenditure, not new imposts.

"Take care of the pennies and the pounds will take care of themselves" is an adage applicable to the situation.

In this respect The Gazette says: "There is a multitude of small outlays, individual, almost petty, which in the aggregate run into millions and which are wholly unnecessary. The service generally is greatly overstaffed. There are branches of government that can be eliminated and money saved without detriment to the service. The practice of rigid economy cannot be too strongly or too persistently pressed upon the Ministry."

ORIENTAL ISSUE

The name of investigating committees and organizations for discussing every ramification of human society is legion, and it is a barren day indeed when one is not added to the number. A Vancouver committee has just been organized, with a very estimable personnel, to act as a kind of wing of the Social and Religious Research Bureau of New York, in assisting that body in completing its study of the ways and influences and habits of Oriental immigrants who have settled on this continent.

The Vancouver committee, very properly, will confine its energies to British Columbia, and when it has discovered all that it can—and practically everything it is likely to find out is common knowledge now—what then? The committee will be operating under the guise of social and religious work, and presumably Christianity and tolerance will guide its course. It is not stated what it is planned to accomplish through its recommendations, whether it is the enlightenment in a social and religious sense of the Orientals in our midst, or the getting rid of them by some new legislation that will be suggested.

No organizations, no committees and no governments have yet had the courage to bring practical purpose to bear on this Oriental question. There is a trend of thought that is anxious to decrease our Oriental population, but it is never suggested, even by the bitterest anti-Orientalists, that a dollar should be expended in achieving the purpose they have in view. A suggestion once made in this newspaper, with practical purpose as its intent, never aroused even a flutter of interest, and because it did not, there are those who doubt the sincerity of the advocates of reducing the Oriental population. That suggestion was that the head tax imposed on Chinese coming to this Province should be refunded to them on the understanding that they return to their homes. It is for governments to study if it is worth while to our economic conditions that $500 per head should be paid to the Chinese to induce them to return from whence they came. The offer would be an evidence of good faith, and any method of "forcing" such Orientals to depart would be an evidence of bad faith. The Orientals in many matters look to the white people, and especially to the people of the British race, for lessons in how to play the game and in fair dealing. There would be intrinsic equity in the formulation of a governmental policy such as we have outlined.

The Vancouver committee to study Oriental immigration, from the social and religious viewpoint, will accomplish nothing unless it bases its recommendations on a sense of justice, for justice, religion and social ethics run hand in hand. It will accomplish less than nothing in the ultimate reckoning if it only succeeds in arousing new racial passions. We have hopes for the committee, because it is basing its work on religious needs, and because it commences its task with the statement that its investigations will be impartial and comprehensive. Nevertheless, what is there to discover? We have the Orientals with us. They came to us legitimately, and thousands of them paid their premium for coming here. Let an offer be made of the refunding of that premium and there are thousands who will seize upon the opportunity of returning to their native land. The bona fide attempts to reduce our Oriental population can be measured by the willingness of organizations and governments to advocate the suggestion that is again advanced regarding the refunding of the head tax as a means to decrease the number of Orientals in our midst.

A MOTORING SAFEGUARD

These are the days of suggestions about what should be done to minimize the danger of accident in motoring, and among the many put forward is the practical one that no motor vehicle should be permitted to operate until it is insured against accidents to property or person in a substantial amount and in an insurance company of standing and repute.

As matters stand, many reckless drivers prove to be unable to pay damages which may be assessed against them. There are those driving motor cars today who have no assets beyond the clothes they wear and the vehicles they drive, and there should be some guarantee of their actions. The public as a whole deserves better protection than is accorded by the law from the danger of motor accidents. In every quarter of this continent accidents are multiplying and reckless driving is not sufficiently controlled. It would seem, indeed, that anyone can get a licence and the risk of accident is continually on the increase. Governments have been so concerned about abstracting a larger pound of flesh out of motorists in the way of licence fees, etc., that they have forgotten there is another duty in legislation, namely, the protection of life and property.

In the report of Sir Auckland Geddes on conditions at Ellis Island and the fact that so many immigrants to the United States are turned back from there, he pointed out that United States Consuls abroad "send communications through the mails to the Commissioners of Immigration saying that they have issued passports to such and such persons, who are sailing on a particular boat on a specified day, and that, in the judgment of the United States Consul, they should not be allowed to land." They are given passports, they spend their passage money, but officialdom knows they will not be allowed to become residents of the United States. There is a refinement of cruelty about this practice when it is remembered that many would-be immigrants spend practically all their savings on their passage across the Atlantic.

An editorial note in a Montreal newspaper erroneously said that it was estimated that 8,900 years would be the length of time required for the transmission of light from the twin suns recently discovered by the telescope at the Little Sanich Mountain Observatory to this earth. A correspondent of that newspaper set out to show that if the estimate was correct the light would have to travel 42,338,509,280,040,000,000 miles. The fact of the matter is that the distance of the twin suns from the earth is 52,000,000,000 miles, according to astronomical estimates, which means that their light would travel to earth in approximately 77 hours and 46 minutes.

An eloquent tribute to Mr. Rudyard Kipling is paid by The Louisville Courier Journal, which says, "In a sense it may be said that Kipling's work is finished. Certainly his achievement is great and enduring. That it may be even greater than it is may be hoped by admirers of this man who has contrived to revive in the world the stimulating ideals, known as Elizabethan—ideals of a day when England might have justly boasted that its rarest jewel was the blood of its people—a blood that conquers still in the cause of right."

The recent eclipse of the sun is not expected to throw much light on the Einstein theory of relativity. At the time of the eclipse the stars available for the photographic test were comparatively few. Within the required radius of two degrees from the sun there were about forty stars that lie between the eighth and ninth magnitude and two brighter than eighth magnitude as compared with over eighty stars which appeared on the photographs taken during the eclipse of last year.

Careful passing through the Panama Canal from the Atlantic to the Pacific in September, 1922, totalled 182,416 tons.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

The wrath of the Institute of Journalists of Vancouver has been kindled against us, and the secretary of that organization, Mr. Charles A. Sutherland, who has not the misfortune to be "an unknown writer," is now pouring the vials of his wrath upon our humbled but unassuming head. However, we can assure Mr. Sutherland and the organization which he so ably defends that we do not care a button whether the men and women who earn their bread by writing for the newspapers call themselves journalists, newspaper men, or mere "writing fellows." Notwithstanding what we may have said, or what anybody else may say, there is something in a name. Mr. Bumble was an arrogant, pretentious, tyrannical old humbug. His name harmonized most admirably with his character. By their works are they all known.

We are well pleased to be informed that the British Columbia Institute of Journalists "exists for social, educational and benevolent purposes." It would be interesting to know also whether the benevolence of that organization is confined strictly to its membership—whether it convicts at or takes any part in a movement that inflicts injustice upon not only a very large number of journalists, or whatever they may be called, but upon a multitude of men and women and children who work in offices and are not, strictly speaking, engaged in the newspaper business.

Mr. Sutherland tells us that the agents of the Workmen's Compensation Board, under powers alleged to have been conferred upon it by the Legislature, virtually are permitted to enter all offices connected with newspapers and to confiscate a part of the earnings of all employees, even the staff of the editorial department, and of the juniors in the editorial department and in the business office. And what is the excuse for that offered by the secretary? That a few journalists are called upon in the course of their duties to enter the printing department for the purpose, we suppose, of instructing the make-up man in his business, and thereby are endangering their limbs, if not their lives, by reason of proximity to such dangerous machines as linotypes and rotary presses. Is the Institute of Journalists an accessory before the fact and after the fact to such acts of extortion just because two or three of its members need protection against accidents that there are a million chances to one will never happen?

We are exceedingly sorrowful that this controversy has taken such a turn. We have the utmost reverence for our seniors and all our colleagues in the journalistic profession or the newspaper business. We would gladly join in any movement for the improvement of the conditions under which we all labor. The motto of one of the great newspapers of Canada is that "the subject of who is truly loyal to the chief magistrate will neither advise nor submit to arbitrary measures."

The measures of the Workmen's Compensation Board are in the highest degree arbitrary. If the claws of the board are not clipped it will presently be exercising powers reserved exclusively for Legislatures. It will be levying taxation upon all the people without the consent of the people. It is doing that now in the case of newspaper men and women. The insignificant sum collected weekly by the Workmen's Compensation Board does not affect the question at all. There is a vital principle involved. It is whether the action of the Compensation Board is right or wrong, and whether the Government, which is primarily responsible, has any control over the actions of this grasping, avaricious body.

Still there is yet a ray of hope for the country. All the people are not so unfeeling in disposition as the meek and mild class employed in the business of writing for the newspapers. Agents of the Workmen's Compensation Board, who appear to be engaged in a continuous campaign for the enlargement of their powers, approached another institute and endeavored to entice it into the parlor. But the farmers were more wary. They could not be inveigled into the spider's dining saloon. The Compensation Board paid them the compliment of consulting them in the matter. Agriculture is a great political power, and it might possibly resist arbitrary measures. The Fourth Estate is not considered to have any political power at all, apparently. It does not appear to have been consulted, unless we are mistaken in the tenor of the letter of the secretary of the organization known as the Institute of Journalists. If the Workmen's Compensation Board were conducting a general accident insurance and health assurance business there might be some excuse for its exactions. But it is not doing that; its liability is very limited indeed; it is virtually collecting money under false pretences, and its activities should be curbed.

Too often has it been the fate of reformers to be grievously misunderstood. A sinister figure at our elbow insinuates that the "Scotch blood leaps in all our veins" at the idea of being compelled to give up six baronets a week to the tax collector, while Mr. Sutherland states that we have fouled the editorial nest. These statements do not hit the nail on the head at all. We have merely tried to arouse editorial self-respect and inspire it to kick out the nimble-fingered editor who weekly enters the cosy editorial nest and winks the editorial pocket.

Little Stories by a Great Story-Teller

TOO WISE

"That seems to be a fine animal you have there," said a man on Travis Street yesterday to a Houston sport who was about to get into his buggy.

"Fine! There's nothing finer in the United States. That horse has got Hambletonian, Jay Eye See and Nancy Hanks blood in him. You won't find a better animal in Texas. He's made it time and again in 2-10. I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for him. I think more of that horse than anything I've got. Thinking of buying a horse?"

"No," said the man; "I just thought I'd ask. I'm the tax assessor, and I'm kinder looking around at things."

The sport got out of his buggy and went up quite close to the other man.

"See here," he said. "That's a fancy price I put on that horse. He ain't worth nothing like that. You see, he ran away with my mother-in-law some time ago and broke her jaw. Naturally I think a heap of him. It's sentiment, air, pure sentiment. In their own minds you see, an actual value at one fifty-one fifty and not a cent more. Now don't forget."

TEXAS WEATHER

Come, girls and boys, the sun shines bright.

It's lovely picnic weather.

Let's take a survey of the woods

And sport upon the heather.

Get overcoats and palm-leaf fans

And linen pants and slickers;

Bring hammocks, bathing suits and skates—

Don't let the weather trick us.

Bring woolen shawls, mosquito bars,

Ice, ear muffers and umbrellas.

We'll be prepared for any change.

The weather can not quell us.

A Noble People

Sir,—The frightful catastrophe in Japan recalls to me the slight I saw there in the great volcanic eruption near Kagoshima, a ruin and desolation appalling to behold and yet as nothing to this new horror. But the deepest impression I received was not that of ruin but of man's unconquerable mind. I saw these poor people, toiling, burdened, ill-fed, ill-clothed, plunged into poverty amidst scenes that had been so lovely and they were not cast down, but full of courage, smiling, kind and courteous, preserving all that makes life noble in face of cruel disaster. One could not see them without emotion, and I felt that terrible as are the powers of nature the mind of man is the stronger, and that the Japanese are a very splendid and noble people. So it was then, so it will be now. They have the courage that will not fail. Yet sure this in itself should inspire one to do what little one can in aid. And Canada, collectively and individually, should rejoice to pay a little of the debt she owes that great country for the strong shield held over her Pacific coasts during the war.

Drinking of Wine

Sir,—In connection with the following paragraph which appeared in The Colonist, August 13, 1923:

Playing With Poison

Government chemists whose business it is to analyze the "evidence" gathered in cases for violation of the Volstead Act, report that in hardly 1 per cent of the tests is a genuinely good liquor found. When it is recalled that they have made some 80,000 examinations the recklessness of thirsty Americans may be imagined. They will play with fire-works. Los Angeles Times.

and a letter from Hoanah H. Freeman on Sept. 7, the following may be of interest.

In the Bohu's edition (1854) of the Travels of Marco Polo (circa, 1254 A.D.) on page 51 may be found—

"Should anyone assert that the Saracens do not drink wine, being forbidden by their law, it may be answered that they quiet their consciences on this point, by persuading themselves that if they take the precaution of boiling it over the fire, by which it is partly consumed and becomes sweet, they may drink it without infringing the commandment; for having changed its taste they change its name, and no longer call it wine, although it is such in fact."

The following is part of a footnote in the book: "The Persians have always been less strict than the other more orthodox Mohammedans in regard to indulgence in wine, and Pietro della Valle mentions two ordinances of Shah Abbas; the one forbidding the use of it, which shows that the religious precept had failed of its own effect; and a second annulling the prohibition upon his finding that the people, and especially the soldiers, had substituted for wine a liquid preparation of opium, by which their health was injured."

Bird Migration

Correspondence London Times

Birds soon grow restless once the business of nesting is over, and by the second week in August the Autumn migration has well begun. One great movement is from the hills to the seashore. Of all the curlews and lapwings and redshanks, which make a moorland country musical in Spring, few linger about their nesting-grounds by the time the ground-shooting begins, and those that still remain have lost their clear, spring voices. By day they are seen in seashore places, wheeling in compact troops over the salt-marshes tinged with flowering sea-lavender, or feeding beyond range of the gunner on the glistening flats; and by night, when the tide hares their feeding-grounds, we hear them signalling to one another through the darkness with voices which are still the sweetest on the shore.

Some of these waders will haunt the same tract of coast for weeks or months, or all the winter; others may drift south and west for several hundred miles. Mr. C. Winter proves severe, will follow the great south road of the migrants to the warm shores of Portugal and Spain. Seagulls and their companions—swallows and house-martins—can sometimes be seen leaving the south coast in August, weeks before the last of their race for the year will be sweeping over some September plume pool or October mustard field. Early on dark, wet mornings—as soon as the light reveals their restless flocks—swallows and martins can be seen beating backwards and forwards above the shore, like boats waiting for the tide over the bar, until their hearts fail them for the wind and rain; and they skirt the coast to find a narrow crossing.

Fly by Night

Very different is the scene when the sea shines blue and the sands stretch yellow in the peaceful August sunshine. Swifts, probably cross in fine weather too high to be easily seen; at any rate, they are seldom noticed, and those visible are not obviously moving southwards. But all the morning little parties of house-martins pass down the sands and over the fair blue water away to France. Most birds migrate by right—a strange and unexplained habit; but the swallow tribe prefers to travel by daylight, and just as we see them arrive over the shore, when the August sun still rules high.

Wheatears on their way to the South halt in August on wayside cliffs of turf and in open pastures, and boating-parties on the larger lowland rivers disturb sandpipers, with their flickering flight and complaining cries, and the birds rise to the flatter fields or by the smoother streams; when we catch sight of them in the elm-filled valleys we know that they are travelers.

By August the so-called grey waders are also on the move from the hill-streams where they nested with the sandpipers. In spite of their name, their breasts and tails are washed with a brilliant yellow; they add brightness in Autumn and Winter to many streams which they desert in Spring. They are often seen in the outskirts of London. Grey waders are content with a limited migration from the hills to the lowlands—from the shingle-beds to the mud-banks; but the white waders now passing down our western coasts are on their way from their breeding-places in Iceland to Africa, where they winter. By some lake-beach in the Hebrides, we see them flitting their long tails like the common pied wagtails, which they closely resemble; but by their paler plumage we know them for wayfarers, and wish them good luck on their journey.

CANADA'S BUFFALO

The latest count shows that the buffalo herd in the National Buffalo Park, at Watnwright, Alberta, numbers 8,000 head. As the numbers are now too large for the size of the park, 2,990 head will be slaughtered this Fall and disposed of to the public through the usual channels of trade. A quantity will be converted into pemmican for use in the northern regions. Buffalo National Park is located on the Canadian National Railways and visitors to the park are increasing annually. This being now the greatest buffalo herd in the world.

Relieved of Nervousness and Other Distressing Ailments by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound four years ago, and am taking it now for a change of life and other troubles and I receive great benefit from it. I am willing to let you use my letter as a testimonial because it is the truth. I found your book-let in my letter box and read it carefully, and that is how I came to take the Vegetable Compound myself. It has given me quiet nerves so that I sleep all night, and a better appetite. I have recommended it already to all my friends and relatives."—Mrs. ENGLISHMAN, 2022 Palmetto St., Ridgewood, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"For the woman suffering from nervous troubles causing sleeplessness, headache, hysteria, 'the blues,' Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine. For the woman of middle age who is passing through the trials of that period, it can be depended upon to relieve the troubles common at that time. You should give it a fair trial now."

URGES CAMPAIGN AGAINST ORIENTAL

ATTORNEY-GENERAL ADVOCATE OF ATTRACTION POLICY

This Labor Convention Government is Working to Eliminate Yellow Race From Industries

VANCOUVER, Sept. 12.—Disagreement with the International Typographical Union, spoke of the strike of the all trades now using a distinctive design, an address by Attorney-General A. M. Manson advocating a campaign of attraction against Orientals in British Columbia, and a report of the progress of the efforts of the typographical union to establish the forty-four-hour week, featured this morning's session of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress.

After five strenuous sessions, during which a tremendous amount of work has been done, the delegates decided to have a little respite and adjournment was taken at noon until tomorrow to permit a five-hour cruise up the Coast.

As a result of the campaign of attraction conducted by the Government, Mr. Manson declared, Orientals in some of the big industries are being replaced by white workers.

The greatest drawback had been the attitude of the East which did not seem to understand the difficulties confronting this Province. He thought perhaps a remedy would be applied if all the Orientals in British Columbia were shipped to Ontario. The Chinese population of the Province was 24,533, in the remainder of Canada it was 14,000. The Japanese population was 13,804, as compared with 42 in other parts of the Dominion.

W. K. Trotter, second vice-president of the International Typographical Union, spoke of the strike of the printers in the commercial shops of Canada which had continued since May, 1921. He thought that the manner in which the strike had been maintained was argument as to the value of international craft unionism, and might well be given serious thought by those who were shouting for national autonomy in the labor movement. He gave some figures in connection with the amounts paid out by the unions in strike benefits.

Bitter Struggle

In Canada, he said, the contest had been most bitter and prolonged. The International Typographical Union had paid strike benefits in the Dominion alone of $1,950,544 and the $2k is not the only one. He contrasted this with receipts from Canadian typographical unions of $349,107, an excess of expenditures over receipts of $2,601,437. In November 1,844 the number of strikers was 2,004 were Canadians. Last month the number of strikers was reduced to 2,104, which included 743 in Canada.

After much discussion the convention refused to agree to substitution of a standard design of union label, but the delegates did endorse unanimously a motion to further the campaign of education of the public in asking for union-made goods.

Another resolution which sought to have the Congress establish a union label advice service to compile and supply information regarding union labor products was defeated. The resolutions committee was of the opinion that this information was obtainable from other sources.

The financial report submitted by Secretary P. M. Draper showed a total membership in 1923 of 121,842. Receipts were $26,471; expenditures, $25,248; balance, $1,123.

PROLONGED MEETING OF SAANICH TRUSTEES

Many Delegations Appear Before Board—Several Adjustments of Salary Made

Several delegations appeared before the Saanich School Board at its regular meeting at Royal Oak last night, their speakers dealing with subjects pertaining to the municipal schools and their operation. Mrs. Service, of the Lake Hill Women's Institute, appeared before the board in reference to furniture owned by the Institute and now in the North Dairy School and applied for permission to remove it.

Chairman P. Holloway asserted that the board was willing to admit the claim of ownership. Mr. W. McKintosh, principal of Cedar Hill School, requested that no new pupils be taken into the schools except at the beginning of the September term. The board was favorably disposed regarding Mr. McKintosh's petition and stated that his recommendations would be adopted, providing that they did not conflict with provincial regulations governing school attendance.

School Football

Mr. J. Miller and Mr. Lynn, residents of Saanich, who are keen supporters of sport, asked the board's opinion relative to the development of football in the Saanich schools during the coming winter. Mr. Miller was prepared to give his time on Saturday afternoons to supervise games and to act as a general "booster," providing the board would assume the financial obligations involved in the purchase of footballs and other sport supplies. Chairman Holloway stated that the board appreciated Mr. Miller's offer and the interest he was taking, and authorized the board secretary, Mr. Hawkins, to act with Mr. Miller in holding an organization meeting with the various school principals. The board would, the chairman said, assist financially.

Salary Adjustments

Three members of the Saanich public school teaching staff appeared before the board in connection with recent decreases made in their respective salaries. The board admitted the making of errors in the case of two of the teachers, and promised to rectify them and to give consideration to the complaint of the third.

Craigflower School

Doctor Francis, of the Craigflower district, asked the opinion of the board in regard to the action being taken by a group of physicians in his section to organize a new school district and to erect a one-roomed school building at Parson's Bridge. Chairman Holloway stated that the Saanich School Board was not in any way opposed to the plan, but he pointed out that the Provincial department was against the erection or operation of one-roomed schools. Doctor Francis stated that he had been informed of the department's attitude, but the need in Craigflower was great. Some of the children were forced to travel six miles to attend one of the Saanich schools, and many of them, rather than do so, stayed away.

In answer to a question, one of the delegation stated that at least nine of the school children living near Parson's Bridge were forced to walk over two miles to school. Chairman Holloway stated that arrangements would be made to institute a bus service there to care for such pupils this winter, or until a new school was built.

As considerable business remained to be transacted, a motion was passed to hold another meeting next Wednesday night.

A MEATLESS LUNCHEON

The following tested recipe solves the problem of a tasty luncheon without meat:

Tomato Chowder
2 cupsful Borden's St. Charles milk.
1 pint hot water.
2 1/2 cupsful canned tomatoes.
1 medium sized onion sliced thin.
1 tablespoonful butter or butter substitute.
4 tablespoonfuls flour.
2 teaspoonfuls sugar.
3/4 teaspoonful salt.
1/2 teaspoonful pepper.
1/4 teaspoonful soda.
6 water crackers split.
Melt the butter in the top part of the double boiler, add the onion, and cook it gently till yellowed, about five to eight minutes. Pour in the milk and water, set over the lower part of the double boiler and scald. Mix the flour, salt and pepper with enough cold water to make a smooth cream; stir it into the milk, and cook about fifteen minutes, stirring occasionally. Heat the tomato with the sugar; when boiling, add the soda and combine it with the thickened milk. For serving, put a split cracker which has been dipped in warm water, in each plate.

DR. VICTORIA CHUNG GIVES RECEPTION

Native Chinese Young Lady Graduate of Toronto University Honored on Eve of Departure

The Auxiliary Circle and Mission Bands of the Chinese Women's Missionary Society were the hostesses yesterday at a delightful reception held in the Chinese Methodist Mission in honor of Dr. Victoria Chung, who leaves shortly to take up her work in China as a medical missionary. A large congregation assembled in the auditorium, where a pleasing programme was carried out. A hymn, "Whosoever Will May Come," and the prayer by Rev. Mr. Leung, of the Presbyterian Mission, was followed by the Scripture reading by Rev. Mr. Chung, a visiting pastor.

Rev. Mr. Lum, who presided, called on Miss Martin, superintendent of the Oriental Home and president of the auxiliary, who spoke of her pleasure in having the privilege of doing honor to one who in every way had proved herself so worthy, and referred to the splendid Christian influence of her father and mother, who were both valued members of the Chinese Methodist Church.

Mrs. (Dr.) Sippell, as president of the British Columbia branch, brought greetings from the Provincial organization in her usual capable manner, and spoke of the pleasure it afforded her to be present on this occasion.

Miss Cronkite, of the Presbyterian Mission, and Mrs. (Rev.) Gilbert Cook, of the Anglican Mission, in pleasing addresses brought greetings from their respective organizations and wished Dr. Chung God-speed in the splendid work she was about to undertake.

Dr. Chung was then presented with an address by Mrs. Chan, accompanied by sterling silver spoons and Madeira services presented by Mrs. Joseph Wong on behalf of the auxiliary. Miss Nellie Lowe, on behalf of the Circle, the address being read by Sister Lee, while little Margaret Wong, on behalf of the Mission Bands, followed with a very pretty bouquet of roses and pink and white asters and carnations.

Dr. Chung thanked the different organizations in English and also gave an address in Chinese. The programme was interspersed with much enjoyed musical numbers, consisting of a solo by Miss Grace V. Baker, M. L. A.; a vocal and instrumental quartette by four Chinese young ladies, and a chorus by members of the Circle.

The guests later repaired to the large kindergarten room, where a very pretty color scheme of pink and mauve in dahlia, asters and carnations decorated the tables, at which over one hundred sat down to a delightful supper prepared under the direction of Mr. Wong Hong, one of the members of the Chinese Church. Following the supper, Rev. Dr. Sippell was called upon for an address, which was delivered in his usual capable manner, and in which he referred to Dr. Chung as one of the most popular of the students at Toronto University.

Mrs. Wilkinson, Miss Baker and Miss Henderson, of the staff of the Oriental Home, were respectively called upon and referred to their pleasure in having the privilege of doing honor to one whom to know was to love. Mrs. Gung Jin and Mrs. Lum also spoke in reference to the noble work in which Dr. Chung was about to enter.

Dr. Chung, in reply, expressed her appreciation of the many kind things which had been said during the afternoon, and stated if there was any quality in herself which was worthy of their admiration it was entirely due to the Christian influence which had been her privilege, and that she would be so glad to see her young Chinese friends enter the service of the Master.

The singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," followed by a prayer and the benediction by Dr. Sippell, brought the enjoyable afternoon to a close.

Soap that soaks clothes clean different from anything you have ever used before

Rinso is an entirely new kind of soap, every granule made of pure materials perfectly combined.

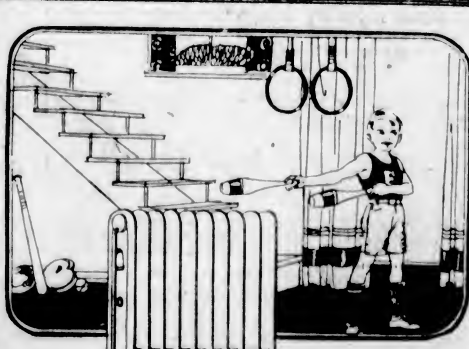

Just by soaking, in its big lasting suds, the most ground-in dirt is gently loosened and dissolved. Only the very dirtiest places need to be rubbed at all.

NOTE: In each container is taken from 1 to 2 packages of Rinso to a tub to make good suds. In very hard water you will need from 1 1/2 to 2 packages to a tub to get the big lasting suds that loosen all the dirt.

DEMPESEY LOOKS GOOD TO BENNY

World's Lightweight Champion Finds Heavyweight Titleholder in Pink of Condition and Ready for Firpo

SAYS JACK IS MODEL OF PERFECT ATHLETE

May Have Lost Some Power to Punch, But Faster Than When He Took Crown From Willard

By BENNY LEONARD
World's Lightweight Champion (Copyright, 1923, by Benny Leonard and Canada by North American Newspaper Alliance) All rights reserved.
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Sept. 12.—Going from the Lina Firpo training quarters at Atlantic City to Jack Dempsey's quarters here is like walking out of the darkness into the sunshine. It seems to be about the difference between amateurism and professionalism. The camp of the challenger seems to have no head or tail to it, whereas the champion's camp is nothing but system. My trip here has been a revelation. After seeing Jack for two successive work-outs I'm at a loss for words. In my wildest dreams I never expected to see what I have seen here. He is the greatest conditioned heavyweight I have ever seen. I am supposed to be fast in the ring, but not a cut faster than the remarkable Dempsey. I saw wind up his boxing session with a wild burst of speed. When I am only a couple of days away from an important bout, such as my recent battle with Lew Tamm, I am supposed to be irritable, and that was the way I thought I'd find the big champion. Instead I found the most genial, confident boxer I have ever met on the eye of a big battle.

He Was Cranky
When Dempsey was training for the bout with Willard and also the one with Carpenter, I understand from friends who saw him work out that just before the match he was as cranky as could be. Not even his closest friends could approach him. Up here he was a different man. He talks on any subject that may be broached with keen interest. He would only do this providing he wasn't worrying about the outcome of his fight with Firpo.

Outside of the arduous training the toughest thing about a championship bout is the mental strain. You worry about a million and one things. There is the worry whether or not you will get a square deal from the judges and referees. You worry whether or not you will meet with an accident that may cost you your title. You hate to think of the bills slipping from your grasp and all the big money and glory that go with it lost to you for ever.

Firpo has a knockout punch. No one denies that. If he hasn't a good chance it is not likely that eighty thousand people would be paying a million and a quarter to see it. That's why I expected to see Dempsey mightily peeved before the fight. I thought the old mental strain would get him, but Dempsey is as cheerful as could be. He chatted with me and asked me what was going to be the outcome of the postmen of my hour with Dundee.

"By the way, Henry," he said, just as I left him, "I understand that you were down to Atlantic City a couple of days ago looking Firpo over. How do you think of him?" I told him I thought he was a big, slow, strong fellow, with a punch that was all right. He seemed pleased as though I confirmed what he thought of him.

Heads His Mail
I saw the mail man deliver a bunch of letters to Jack, many of them from friends. He may not be able to read the interest that showed that he has not a worry on his mind as to the outcome of tomorrow night's fight in the polo grounds against Firpo.

Now, if it had been me, and I was just about to meet a formidable opponent, I wouldn't have the patience to look at any paper or letter, except maybe to glance at it. I am telling you all this because it goes to show that if Dempsey were not supremely confident of winning, he wouldn't be a body could talk to him. Another thing: when he wound up his training Tuesday night that, he put away the boxing gloves until he comes through the ropes in New York City—he was so unconcerned that he waited until a few admirers took pictures of him. He didn't have men for newspaper photographers taking his pictures as a matter of business, but his patience in waiting, all heated and perspiring, while several amateurs snapped him, further proves that his mental peace is perfect.

Now, regarding his boxing and appearance. He may not be able to punch as well as he did at Toledo. In fact he confessed to me himself that he didn't think that he had the same power behind his blow as he had then—but his accuracy and speed, I think, are even greater. That's what several old timers, who saw him here and at Toledo, told me.

You remember Stanley Ketchell, the famous middleweight champion who fought many heavyweights, including him. Twelve-round bout with Jack Johnson, was fast, but Dempsey is even faster now. He keeps going every second. There's not a let-up. I saw Jack Burke, who has been at Pittsburgh and who is a good man, get ready to receive a left hook, and as a flash, but without any telegraphing whatever, Dempsey drove over a right to the head. Dempsey's punches don't travel no more, and as Burke said after two rounds of terrific fighting with him, when asked if any of Dempsey's punches hurt, "All of Jack's punches hurt." Alex Trambella told me the same thing, and so did George Wolf, the English welterweight. If Reddy had seen Dempsey in action yesterday, his perfect beauty without an ounce of superfluous flesh, and his line like those of a lightweight, he would surely would have made arrangements

Long Shots Take First Place in Almost Every Race on "Getaway Day" at the Local Track

SUCCESSFUL SEASON BROUGHT TO CLOSE

Columbia Country Club's Efforts Result in Two Weeks of Best Racing Ever Staged in Victoria

The British Columbia racing season ended at the Willows Park yesterday. There was a big attendance and, for a final day, the racing itself was unusually replete with surprises.

In the old days it was the custom to regard the last day of the meeting as "setback stakes," when one or more soft spots were provided for those in the "know," so that the public could be milked for traveling expenses. In the first race, Nebraska, backed off the boards, got well away from a standing start and was never headed.

A Good Beginning
This was a good beginning for the professional backers, but it was the last sweet morsel to pleasure their palates. The next six winners paid an average price of over $17 for a $2 straight ticket, and never in the racing history of this province have there been so many consecutive upsets of warm favorites on a closing day. This speaks volumes for the honesty of owners, jockeys and management, as when long shots pass the post the public get the money.

A Hard Blow
The hardest blow of the day came in the next race, when Mary Fuller, who was favorite over the field, could never get on terms with Medford Boy. Medford Boy beat the time, but Fuller was not far behind, and though the latter made a great deal of ground he could never get on terms with the winner.

Couldn't Make It
She absolutely refused to respond, and fell back beaten. Mary Fuller, then tried to get on terms, but failed, and in the last sixteenth wedding she went after Pompadour. It was too late, however, as Pompadour won a good race by a length and a half from Mrs. Abbott's horse.

Another Upset
Col. Brown and Loan were the good things in the sixth race, which, like many "good things," failed to materialize. Neither flattered their supporters in the running, as after Rosa Alkin had made the pace and looked all over a winner, the old Victoria favorite came along and just galloped home. Yorkford and Mudoba were hot favorites in the final event of the season of 1922, the Good Luck Claiming Purse, over one mile and seventy yards. "Long Shot" Baker, on Woodhouse, won the race, and on occasions disappointed his connections, took him mount to the front, made every post a winning one, and just leaped home a second in front of John Arbor, who, in the last hundred yards, seemed to swoop down from the sky. He ended the second of the two best weeks of racing ever witnessed in Victoria.

Successful Efforts
The Columbia Country Club can be congratulated upon the success of its efforts to raise the "sport of kings" to the highest plane. It has yet reached in this province. The stewards and judges were eminently efficient and of Stalter Donovan every one who witnessed his work speaks in the highest commendation. It would be invidious to overlook the quiet but vigilant ears with which the jockeys' room, and the stewards may be attributed the absence of any suspicious riding. The police arrangements were perfect. Victoria has enjoyed a successful season.

RUGBY MEETING TODAY
A meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union will be held this afternoon at 2:15 in the office of the secretary, 208 Union Bank Building.

MISS AUDREY GRIFFIN CHANGES PARTNERS

Will Paddle With Fellow Club Member—Mrs. Davies, of Portland

Interest in the Colonist canoe marathon, to be staged by the V.I.A.A. on Saturday, is fully as keen as it has been in the two former years in which the event has been held, and when the starter gives the signal at three o'clock on Saturday afternoon word of the best canoeists on this coast will start on the long paddle to the Gorge.

An Open Event
The entry of Dr. Wheeler, of the Multnomah Club, Portland, is cordially welcomed by the promoters of this event, as there has never been any idea of limiting the event to entrants from any one district. The V.I.A.A. under whose management the race is annually held, has done a great deal of splendid work in the past in bringing outside talent to compete against local athletes, and the fact that the event this year has been given an international character has been a great help to the V.I.A.A. in its efforts to broaden the boundary line, is not likely, in the opinion of the original promoters of the race, to detract in the least from its interest to local lovers of aquatic sports, or from the value in advertising this city as a place of good amateur sport.

Change of Partners
Miss Audrey Griffin, who had entered for the race as a member of Dr. Wheeler, having heard some of her decision to paddle with the American expert, has apparently taken this criticism of her partner, has decided to choose a local partner. Miss Griffin, however, will take part in the race, and will have as her partner Frank Morris, one of the V.I.A.A. boys. Morris, who is paddling in the race for the first time.

In the past two years Miss Griffin has made an excellent showing in this event, finishing in second place with Jack Andros as partner for the first year, and fourth place with L. H. Andros for the second year. In the last year, however, she has demonstrated that she is the best lady paddler on the island, proving her partner in Saturday's race can stand the strain of this grueling test of endurance, the team should give an excellent account of themselves.

Other entries from the V.I.A.A. include Charlie Morris and Geo. H. H. who will have two of the V.I.A.A. lady swimmers as partners.

As in the two former years the race will be held under the auspices and sanction of the British Columbia section of the A.A.U. and it will be necessary for each person entering the race to obtain a certificate of membership, which can be obtained from the A.A.U. cards.

Arrangements have been made with the local race track, for the race to start from the V.I.A.A. club quarters at Curtis Point.

The race is open to all amateur paddlers, who must have their 1923 A.A.U. cards.

The race is to be run annually over the course starting from the vicinity of the Empress Hotel steps and proceeding up the Gorge to a point in front of the city bathing house, where the canoe will turn and circle buoys which are laid out in the basin below the Gorge bridge, and finish opposite the V.I.A.A. club quarters at Curtis Point.

The race is open to all amateur paddlers, who must have their 1923 A.A.U. cards.

The Colonist Cup is to be held for one year by the club whose representatives succeed in winning the race. The cup is to be competed for annually until such time as it has been won three successive times by the same contestants.

Rix prizes, consisting of silver and bronze medals emblematic of the event, will be awarded to the six paddlers finishing in first, second and third places.

Ordinary finishing canoes must be used, and racing canoes will be barred, decision in this regard to rest with the referees. Entries for the race are to be in the hands of W. H. Davies, superintendent of the V.I.A.A., 441 Fort Street, by 5 p.m., Friday, September 14.

The V.I.A.A. sub-committee in charge of the event is as follows: Jax McNeill (chairman), Al. Davies, C. M. Jones, J. T. Braden, President W. H. Meares, M. Kilburn, Irving Blyth, Geo. McCrae and Dr. Cecil Hay.

POLO CLUB WILL BE FORMED HERE

ARRANGEMENTS UNDER WAY TO REVIVE THE SPORT

Prospects Good for Raising Strong Team With Captain Players and First-Class Ponies

Polo is to be revived in Victoria. A number of well-known local sportsmen are making arrangements to start a club which will be organized at an early date. Polo was played here before the war and its revival will be a very popular one with Victoria horsemen and will probably be a great success.

Not only local sportsmen will be pleased at the revival of the game here, but members of the Vancouver Polo Club will welcome the new Victoria club, also the two clubs already in existence in Calgary and Edmonton. These clubs are giving the Victoria promoters of the sport all the assistance needed to turn out a strong team for next season's competition. The Army and Navy are well as a great number of prominent citizens are supporting this movement.

The club intends to make its playing ground at the Willows Park, which will be laid out as a regulation size in the near future. Members will be taken into the club when rules governing such are drawn up.

With players from outside points here and those from outside points expected to come in, the Victoria club promises to be one of the strongest clubs in the West, and with such capable managers as Lieut. R. Carley and Capt. W. C. Proby, it is assured that no effort will be spared to get players and ponies equal to any on the Pacific Coast.

HAROLD LLOYD

PLAYS DR. JACK

Great Film Comedian Will Be Featured on Columbia Screen for Balance of the Week

Harold Lloyd has again proven that he is the most consistent fun-maker on the screen by his latest Pathe five-reel comedy, "Dr. Jack," which will be seen at the Columbia Theatre for the balance of the week. There are comedians who make exceedingly funny pictures, but Lloyd is the most consistent and dependable of the "sons of laughter." "Grandma's Boy" seemed to us to be the perfect comedy—until we saw "Dr. Jack."

In "Dr. Jack," Lloyd has again given us a comedy with a serious vein running through it, but the laughter is continuous and everlasting. Never was there anything funnier screened than Lloyd's acrobatic antics in his weird disguise as the madman. The poker game was a gem of cleverness, as was the comedian's scene with the little freckled kid. Then there was his ride on the back of the bronco-like calf, and—but why mercy and merciless in business transactions. And he makes up his mind to manipulate the stock market so as to break his best friend—and wreck his home. This is the kind of villain Robert Edeson depicts in the powerful Paramount picture, "The Silent Partner," a Charles Maigne production, which is now showing at the Capitol Theatre. Leatrice Joy, Owen Moore and Robert Edeson are featured. More than 25 years of prominent stage experience has well equipped Robert Edeson for his screen career. He was continue? It was a laugh from start to finish. Harold Lloyd is seen in the title role, that of a young doctor who cures the "sunshine method." The fast and furious Lloydian comedy is interwoven with a charming love story, and here the comedian fairly outshines all the great lovers of the screen.

ROYAL "Daddy," which is the Theatre again today, is a picture that is said to complete the full revelation of Jackie's extraordinary genius. His preceding offering, "Oliver Twist," disclosed Jackie's genius in his tender, pathetic and wistful aspects. "Daddy" had, however, revealed Jackie mainly as an impish, mischievous, adorable lad, there was grotesque humor in "Trouble," wherein Jackie was a plumber's helper; but it remained for "Daddy" to bring to light Jackie's capacity for tragedy. Jackie has been proclaimed by eminent critics as being one of the greatest actors of all time, regardless of age. "Daddy" will prove it, for in this first National picture Jackie is called upon to sound the lowest depths of tragic despair. It happens in but one scene. In the main, the production is devoted to the spirit that animates its ending—happiness. "Daddy" was produced by Sol Lesser and directed by E. Mason Hopper and from the original story by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coogan. In the cast are Bert Woodruff, Anna Townsend, William Lewis, George Kuwa, Arthur Carney and Josie Sedgewick.

PHOTOGRAPHIC

FEAT SHOWS IN HOLLYWOOD FILM

An entire frame house built for a scene in "Hollywood," a James Cruze Paramount production, and the second super-picture of the Fall season, which comes to the Dominion Theatre next week, was reduced to ashes during the filming of the picture at the Lasky Ranch. But it is all part of the picture.

The children's too middle western Whitaker home play at making "movies" and a fire starts which consumes the home. The odd part of making the picture was that the house was burned at the ranch and the interiors, filled with smoke, were shot at the studio.

Karl Brown did some excellent work in filming these scenes. Several unknown players doing important roles worked in these scenes as well as a large contingent of minor players.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS

ELECT OFFICERS FOR THE COMING SEASON

The first meeting of the Winter season of the Native Daughters of British Columbia, No. 2, was held last night in the Victoria Club. The meeting was of unusual interest since the installation of officers took place, and later a "showers" was held when members presented donations for the Christmas gift sale which the lodge will undertake in the first week of December.

Miss Marjorie Grief installed the officers as follows: Mrs. W. W. Brentzen, past chief factor; Mrs. R. P. Brown, chief factor; Miss Alice Terry, vice-factor; Miss Oldershaw, chaplain; Miss MacDonald, recording secretary; Miss Palmer, financial secretary; Mrs. Todd, treasurer; Mrs. L. M. H. Dods, historian; Miss Mees, auditor; Miss A. Chow, inner sentinel; Miss M. Chow, outer sentinel; Miss M. Chow, trustee. Miss Wilson was elected as guide.

Tentative plans were made for the work to be carried out this winter, including a bridge party to be given by Mrs. R. P. Brown, in aid of the fund for furnishing a room in the new wing of the Jubilee Hospital.

SEEK RIGHT TO VOTE

Japanese Women Have Campaign on to Secure the Franchise as Well as Attend Political Meetings

Japanese women have initiated a campaign for the right to vote, and the movement has recently gained so much momentum that it is no longer regarded as a joke or as the creation of a handful of cranks.

Not long ago the women of Japan, acting through the Women's Federation, won the right to attend political meetings, a privilege which had previously been withheld from them by police regulations. Having gained this point, the Women's Federation is going after the much more important objective—women's suffrage.

In the opinion of Mrs. Shinko Kodama, president of the Federation, women's right to vote is the shortest cut to rectification of the injustices to which Japanese women are at present subjected. She declares that the Federation seeks the privilege for all Japanese women of having an equal voice with men in the drafting of the country's laws in order that discrimination against the sex may be avoided.

MACCEL ALFALFA

Value of Grass Originating in Manitoba Proving Valuable for Farmers

Maccel alfalfa, a Manitoba product, bids fair to be a great boon to agriculturists of the West, according to a statement made by Professor W. Southworth, expert in plant breeding at Manitoba Agricultural College. The variety is called Maccel because it is representative of origination work of the M.A.C. in the Selkirk district. The first three letters of the name are derived from the college and the last three are derived from Selkirk.

FUNNIEST COMEDY

IN ALL ENGLAND

AT ROYAL MONDAY

Hugh E. Wright, the noted English comedian, famous as Sam "Opkins" in "Me and My Gal" and as Alf in "The Better 'Ole," shares the honors in the great English comedy, "Take Me Back to Blighty," which will be the attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre all next week. In the role of Sam "Opkins," the struggling bookmaker who, with Squibs, the flower girl, wins the £50,000 sweepstake, he is immense. Whereas in "Me and My Gal" he meandered around Trafalgar Square and Piccadilly Circus in the picturesque "blokes" attire with a bowler hat and famous muffer in place of collar and tie, in "Take Me Back to Blighty," he becomes all of a sudden a rich swell and we see him in his country "ouse and ridin' around in his "Rides llyce" and strolling on the boulevards of "Gay Paree."

"Take Me Back to Blighty" comes to Victoria after a record in England and such as has been very seldom equalled. Right on the first showing in London, England, the theatre sold out to capacity and people were forced to stand in line all night in succession to get seats for this famous comedy.

BUSTER KEATON'S

FEATURE COMEDY AT

CAPITOL ON MONDAY

Margaret Leahy, English beauty contest winner, who plays opposite Buster Keaton in his first six-reel Metro feature comedy, "Three Ages," which is coming to the Capitol Theatre on Monday, says she likes comedy better than drama and intends to remain in it for some time. Miss Leahy was brought to this country by Norma Talmadge after she had won the beauty contest in competition with $8,000 English girls.

According to Buster Keaton, Miss Leahy has shown great ability for comedy drama and gives promise of becoming the screen's foremost comedienne.

DISCOVERY NIGHT

IS A NEW FEATURE

AT ROYAL VICTORIA

In addition to the feature picture, Jackie Coogan in "Daddy," the first of a series of Discovery Nights will also take place tonight. "Discovery Night," as explained before, is an opportunity given to local singers, dancers and musicians to appear upon the stage of the Royal Victoria Theatre, the reason for this being that it gives the pupils who are studying under local teachers here an opportunity to first gain stage experience, and to get proper stage deportment, out of the three artists who will appear tonight one of them will be Professor Southworth, originated the strain in 1921, after long and careful experimentation, and sent it out to farmers in the Selkirk district, where twenty farmers have been formed into a seed-growing centre. One farmer has reported great success in growing Maccel alfalfa, which has demonstrated remarkably high seeding properties. He sowed three pounds of the seed in 1921, and in 1922 garnered 600 pounds from the one-acre plot. This 600 pounds means a ten-bushel yield, which is very high, from four to five bushels an acre being considered a good yield. Maccel alfalfa yields from two to three tons of excellent hay to the acre.

HEALTH LECTURER

HAS WORD FOR WOMEN

Mrs. Margaret J. Blair Will Give Secret of Perpetual Youth and Freedom From Unpleasantness

MRS. MARGARET JOSEPHINE BLAIR

Women of Victoria will hear with interest the fact that Mrs. Margaret Josephine Blair, author, lecturer and health specialist, has arrived in this city and is staying at the Empress Hotel. During her visit here Mrs. Blair will give three lectures next week, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

In an interview with a Colonist representative yesterday, Mrs. Blair announced, "I want women to have health, the glorious health I myself enjoy, and I can give them the secret of this." The message of health and perpetual youth will form the basis of the three lectures which Mrs. Blair will deliver next week. Health, dance, and various demonstrations will be included in the first lecture, while the following discourse will be on the care of the skin and the body, and the third lecture, which will be of particular interest to women, will be for women alone.

In California, where the famous lecturer is well known, her audiences number from 2,500 to 3,000 at a single meeting. Not long ago, at Long Beach, Mrs. Blair's meeting caused such widespread attraction that the hall engaged for the occasion, with a seating capacity of 1,200, proved far too small for the affair, and 1,200 people were turned away. Finally the police force had to be called to disperse the immense crowd. Mrs. Blair has been studying in New York recently, and her experience in health culture has been augmented through these efforts. The

EAST SOOKE HELD FIRST EXHIBITION

While Entries Were Not Numerous,
Judges Praise Quality of Exhibits
—Jury's Commendation

The first East Sooke Fall fair and exhibition was held yesterday afternoon in the spacious grounds of Hagley Farm, the property of Rev. Robert and Lady Emily Walker, East Sooke, commencing at 2 o'clock. Mr. G. L. Hilborn, for many years in charge of the Provincial Experimental Station at Summerland, B.C., and a well-known agriculturist, opened the exhibition with a brief address, in which he expressed his opinion of the fair and the creditable way in which the entries had been got together.

"For the size of the community and the number of entries shown, the exhibit compared favorably with the Provincial exhibition," declared Mr. Hilborn. "The 140 entries all came from fifty-odd families, who certainly played their part in adding to the success of the venture."

The speaker then introduced Mrs. W. D. Todd, who is well known in connection with the work of Women's Institutes and other organizations in the district, who spoke very highly of the workers who exhibited, and to the section set aside for women's exhibits, which although not large, were of excellent quality.

The livestock portion of the fair came in for some commendation and a little criticism from Mr. S. H. Hopkins, formerly Provincial Assistant Livestock Commissioner. "The entries are few but good," he said, "and I am pleased to see that the Jersey breed has been adopted to a large extent by the farmers of the locality. The classes could be extended and, no doubt, will be next year. On the whole, both graded and pure breeds are well represented and well deserve the handsome prizes donated."

The judges expressed their appreciation of the dairy luncheon served them by Lady Emily Walker at the close of the judging.

The hard-working committees responsible for the success of their first fair was as follows: Executive committee, Messrs. Donaldson, president; H. Thorne, P. Brown, A. Gillespie, Mrs. F. Caffery, Miss Stiff, and the secretary, Lady Emily Walker; reception committee, Messrs. R. E. Walker, president; Messrs. W. Burnett, J. Caffery, P. Brown, Oldershaw and Davidson; ladies' section, Mrs. A. Gillespie, Mrs. P. Caffery, Mrs. Forrest and Miss Stiff; sports committee, Messrs. Eric Walker, A. Wicker and L. Eddy; yard manager, Mrs. F. Caffery; secretary and treasurer, Lady Emily Walker.

When those attending the exhibition had seen the full complement of agricultural exhibits, various amusements were offered, such as the lucky dip, in charge of Mrs. Quetch, who reported a thriving trade; cake guessing, taken up by Mrs. Eddy, and won by Mr. L. Eddy; Aunt Sally and Uncle Sambo, with Mr. E. Davidson in charge; the art gallery, Mr. Rupert Walker; while Mrs. Brown told thrilling fortunes for a moderate sum.

Tea and ice cream were served to the gathering by a committee composed of Messrs. Cullum (president), Barlow, McBride, Higgin, J. S. Muir and C. J. Muir, all of the Sooke Women's Institute.

THREE COUPLES MADE HAPPY AT NANAIMO

St. Paul's Church the Scene of a
Trinity of Weddings on Tuesday Morning

NANAIMO, Sept. 12.—No less than three pretty marriages were solemnized at St. Paul's Church yesterday morning, the sacred edifice being decorated for the occasion with pink roses and pink and mauve anthers. At eight o'clock, Sadie, only daughter of Mrs. James Hardy, Winifred Crescent, became the bride of Mr. Cecil R. Mulholland, of this city, Rev. S. Ryall officiating. The bride wore a lovely gown of navy blue tulle, embroidered in grey, trimmed with fur, wearing a grey hat of velvet and georgette and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. Miss Sadie Hirst, prettily attired in a navy blue suit of Poirer twill and a small turban to match, carrying a bouquet of roses and carnations, was the maid of honor, while Mr. Thomas Hardy, brother of the bride, supported the groom. At the close of the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Mulholland left by motor for Victoria en route to Seattle and after a short honeymoon, will take up their new home at 150 Nikol Street.

Wood-Dunmore
At 11 a.m., Miss Chrystal Dunmore, daughter of Mr. Alexander Dunmore, Slocoway Avenue, and one of Nanaimo's fairest daughters was also united in marriage by the Rev. Mr. Ryall to Charles Ellsworth Wood, a member of the Nanaimo Baseball Club. The bride looked charming in a beautiful costume of ivory satin crepe trimmed with nylon roses. She wore the traditional bridal veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of cream roses and fern. She was attended by her sister, Miss Annie Dunmore, wearing a pretty costume of coral crepe satin with picture hat to match, and a bouquet of fresh carnations and asters. Mr. Ralph Halliday performed the duties of best man. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. William Dunmore, and Mr. Andrew Dunmore played the wedding march. During the signing of the register, Mrs. W. H. Drysdale sang "O Promise Me," after which a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dunmore, Commercial Street. The groom's gift to the bride was an ermine neckscarf, to the bridesmaid, a pearl ring, the best man, a scarf pin and to Mrs. Drysdale a silver mesh bag. The happy couple left in the afternoon by motor for Victoria en route to Seattle and Portland, the bride leaving in a navy embroidered frock, with hat to match. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Wood will take up their residence at Nanaimo, B. C.

Rickard-Day
Immediately following the Wood-Dunmore nuptials, Mr. Andrew James Rickard, of Ladysmith, led to the altar Miss Amelia Day, also of Ladysmith, where they were joined in marriage by the Rev. Mr. Ryall. The bride was attended by Miss Rosie Day, while Mr. J. Masser, of Squash, Wash., acted as groomsmen.

DUNCAN RIDE CROSS

DUNCAN, Sept. 12.—At a meeting of the local branch of the Canadian Red Cross Association, held at the Duncan City Hall yesterday, steps were taken to arrange for a thorough canvass of the city and district on the 29th inst. to raise funds in aid of the sufferers in the recent earthquake in Japan. Mrs. T. Pitt occupied the chair, and amongst those present were C. H. Dickie, M.P.; K. P. Duncan, M.P.P.; J. N. Evans, reeve of North Cowichan, and Acting-Mayor James Duncan, representing the City Council.

FUNERAL AT NANAIMO

NANAIMO, Sept. 12.—The funeral of Thomas McCarthy, who died at Tranquille on Friday last, took place yesterday afternoon from his mother's residence, 75 Strickland Street, under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias. Messrs. A. H. Johns, C.C., and W. H. Jones, acting prelates, conducted service for the lodge at the graveside. The burial services were conducted by the Rev. D. J. Lester, and the pallbearers were: P. Green, J. Devlin, R. Nicol, J. Thompson, J. Burton and J. Burdock. Many beautiful floral wreaths covered the casket.

ROYAL OAK WOMEN'S INSTITUTE ASSEMBLES

Meeting Yesterday Afternoon Transacts Routine Business—Potato
Dishes for Potato Fair

ROYAL OAK, Sept. 12.—Royal Oak Women's Institute met at Mrs. Young's residence at Royal Oak this afternoon, with a fair attendance and the president, Mrs. Raven, in the chair. A great deal of current business was discussed, and finally disposed of. A letter from Mrs. Deacon, district convener of agriculture, was read, the institute approving of the plan to purchase a prize for the Potato Fair, as proposed by Mrs. Deacon. Mrs. H. Reed, institute convener of agriculture, is looking after the exhibit for Royal Oak Institute, who decided to make a good entry of dishes made from potatoes, in addition to the potatoes themselves.

The members considered the idea of conducting Fall classes, but left the subject over to the October meeting for further consideration, as it is hoped that the first class will be conducted in addition to any other the members may choose. It was decided to have a "Frolic Night" late in September, in Royal Oak Hall, when many novel games will be prepared for those attending. Mrs. Nicholson was chosen convener for this affair, with a committee composed of Mrs. Raven, Mrs. Cotton, Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Young and Mrs. Quick.

Final arrangements were made for the institute exhibit at South Saanich on Saturday. Members who are exhibiting are requested to have their exhibits ready on Saturday at 9 o'clock, when they will be called for. Mrs. Lucas, who was present, gave a most interesting talk on "First Aid: Its Aims and Its Objects." Mrs. Lucas, who is superintendent of the Saanich Health Centre, is a particularly charming speaker, and kept her hearers interested throughout her talk.

The institute meeting in October will be particularly interesting, with Mrs. Deacon, of Sidney, as speaker, on "Agriculture"; Mrs. William Peden, of Victoria, on "Immigration," both subjects being of very great interest just at this time. The roll call will be "potato dishes." The hostesses for this meeting will be announced later.

Mrs. Young, assisted by Mrs. Quick and Mrs. Nicholson, served dainty refreshments after adjournment.

DAUGHTER BUSH FIRE

Outbreak at Quamichan Lake Causes
Great Anxiety—Burn Destroyed
—Many Appeals for Help

DUNCAN, Sept. 12.—A dangerous bush fire, which has been raging in the vicinity of Quamichan Lake, today spread to the premises of Mrs. C. Easton and destroyed the barn. An appeal to the Duncan Fire Department resulted in a fire-fighting crew being sent out in an attempt to save the residence, which was in grave danger of destruction also.

Yesterday no less than three appeals were made to the city from residents in the same neighborhood for assistance in fighting fire. It is understood that North Cowichan has also sent men out to battle with the flames.

GULF ISLANDS HOSPITAL

GANGER HARBOR, Sept. 11.—The following donations to Gulf Islands Hospital were received during August, and are thankfully acknowledged: Mr. Walter, vegetables; Mr. Crofton, vegetables; Mr. William Mout, salmon; Mr. John, salmon; Mrs. Ashton, vegetables and flowers; Mr. Ingalls, apples, plums and corn; Mrs. Burdett, plums; Mrs. B. Akerman, fruit, sweet peas; Mr. W. Norton, fruit, salmon; Mrs. Cropper, fruit, tomatoes, magazines; Mrs. Hildner, pears; Mrs. Campbell, blackberries; Mrs. Dean, blackberries; cream; Women's Institute (Pulford), vegetables, fruit; Mrs. Lowther, cherries, peaches; Mrs. Borradaile and Mrs. Ringwood, flowers; Mrs. Beach, papers.

SAANICH V. O. S.

ROYAL OAK, B.C., Sept. 12.—The regular meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses, Saanich branch, was held on Tuesday evening in the Municipal Hall, Royal Oak. Miss K. Oldfield, president, was in the chair, and there was a good attendance, all interested organizations being represented. Several suggestions were made for the purpose of making the grounds surrounding the Health Centre a beauty spot, and it was finally decided to ask the assistance of Saanich residents for the purpose. A gardeners' "bee" will be arranged shortly, when the work of beautifying the grounds will proceed.

An effort will be made to obtain the consent of Victoria City Council to hold a tag day for the benefit of the Saanich branch of the Victorian Order. It was pointed out that a great deal of the work accomplished by this branch was of benefit to city residents, and that a tag day conducted in the city would be one means of raising funds much needed at the present time.

PICNIC EXEMPLIFIES MINIATURE GYMKHANA

Unique Function Organized at Met-choshin Proves Success—Hon.
John Oliver Speaks

METCHOSHIN, Sept. 12.—Something new in the way of parties was presented to her friends by Miss Nancy Dunn at her residence, "Bunny Farm," this afternoon. This function took the form of a small sized gymkhana, and had been splendidly organized by this enterprising lady, who is entitled to much credit for the originality displayed. In the stick and ball game Mr. H. Brown, of Langford, and Mr. H. Hammond won from Mrs. Mathews, of Langford, and Miss Dunn, Mrs. N. Brown was the winner in the chalk ring game. An exciting treasure hunt by the map over an area of 200 acres country was very popular. Mrs. Mathews and Mr. Hammond bringing in four flags, closely followed by Miss Mary Hammond and Mr. N. Brown. Tea was served by Mrs. Ris and Mr. H. still, and was greatly enjoyed by all.

Premier John Oliver will address a meeting of the Metchoshin Farmers' Institute on Friday, September 21, at 8 p.m., in Metchoshin Hall, on the various problems affecting British Columbia at the present time. This will include a presentation of the Province's demand to be placed on an equality with other parts of the Dominion in the matter of railway freight rates. A social and dance will conclude the evening's programme. All residents of this and adjoining districts are given a cordial invitation to be present.

CHEMAINUS BOARD OF TRADE

CHEMAINUS, Sept. 12.—The regular monthly meeting of the Chemainus and District Board of Trade was held at the Courthouse on Monday, the president, Mr. W. B. Trenholm, in the chair. After dealing with the usual routine business, including the reading of a satisfactory financial statement by Mr. J. R. Robinson, honorarium, the Board the president made the following appointments, which had been left over from the annual meeting, held last night: Mr. H. Smith, Committee, Mr. R. H. Smith, Committee, Mr. C. C. Stevens, fishery and forestry; Mr. J. R. Robinson, publicity; Mr. G. H. Wilson.

It is satisfactory to note that the interest taken in the Board continues unabated attendance at the meetings is good, the various executive members being especially keen on the interests of the general community.

PIONEER WOMAN OF CHEMAINUS DEAD

Mrs. Emily Howe, of Horseshoe Bay
Inn, Had Resided in District for Past Twenty-Seven Years

CHEMAINUS, Sept. 11.—Mrs. Emily Howe, mother of Mr. Arthur E. Collyer, of the Horseshoe Bay Inn, passed away at 7 o'clock last Thursday evening in Seattle. The deceased lady was born in Windsor, England, seventy years ago. When a young woman, she was for a number of years a member of the late Queen Victoria's household. While there she met and married her first husband, Mr. Collyer. For several years they lived in Savannah, Georgia, where her husband died. Mrs. Collyer and her two sons came to Vancouver Island and lived in Victoria for three years. She married Mr. Matthew Howe, then proprietor of the Horseshoe Bay Hotel, and for twenty-seven years has resided there. Mrs. Howe was a thorough business woman and it is to be capable management that the Horseshoe Bay Inn is noted for its splendid home comforts, service and cooking. The son, Mr. Collyer, has always resided with his mother. She leaves to mourn her loss, her two sons, Mr. Arthur E. Collyer, of the Horseshoe Bay Inn, and Mr. Charles Collyer, of Seattle; four grandchildren and a sister living in Windsor, England.

The remains were cremated in Seattle on Saturday. Her ashes will, in all probability be sent to Georgia, U.S.A., to be buried beside her first husband.

A memorial service will be held in the Church of St. Michael's and All Angels here, next Sunday evening.

Premier Baldwin's Eloquence

It is interesting to note the steady growth of Mr. Baldwin's influence and power of expression. His speech in the debate on the Ruhr was notable for its wide grasp of the situation, its dignity of utterance, and its courage.

When he delivers a pronouncement of importance, Mr. Baldwin speaks slowly. He weighs every word. It might almost appear that his task weighs heavily upon him. That does not prevent him occasionally indulging in happy imagery or bringing a shaft of wit to illumine and to illustrate. Brilliance is the last thing one would associate with the utterances of the Prime Minister. There is no suggestion of tour de force. One feels, however, that one is being presented with a glimpse of the working of a well-balanced mind, and one cannot but admire the orderly presentation of a problem and the examination of its varied ramifications. One feels that, at any rate, here is no second-class brain. The times are grave, but I think that the House as a whole has to admire and to trust this cool, calm and determined man, who follows the right path according to his judgment regardless of whether it please foe or friend. Mr. Baldwin has personality, and the way in which he has impressed itself, not only upon Parliament, but upon the country, is one of the romances of history.—Exchange.

London News and Gossip

By Elizabeth Montagu

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The Canadian Club of Great Britain think themselves very fortunate in having secured their new premises in 29 Spring Gardens, just opposite the Admiralty Arch, and indeed they are to be congratulated for the pickaxe of the housebreaker has not left many of these charming old Adams houses standing. No. 29 and its neighbor have many historic associations, and among the celebrated people who lived in Spring Gardens in the days when every house still had its own separate well, were John Milton, in the time of the Commonwealth; Colley Cibber, the playwright; Prince Rupert, Cromwell, Mrs. Centlivre, that beautiful and witty dramatist-actress; George Canning, Queen Caroline's parents, the Duke and Duchess of Brunswick, and many others. No. 29 has been used lately for Government offices, but the eye of faith with which the club committee saw the building has been amply justified. The rooms, now decorated in pale yellow and white, with their charming Adams mouldings and beautiful curved cornices, are admirably adapted for club purposes, and of course the extraordinary convenience of the site could not have been better respected. There are eight comfortable bedrooms installed with hot water, central heating, individual telephones, communicating bedrooms, and everything to ensure the comfort of the overseas members who will probably have to book his room some time ahead. Canadians in London who are in sympathy with this movement to provide a clubhouse for Canadians resident in, and visiting England, have been generous in helping the installation. At present there is a membership of about 200, but Major Hamilton and his colleagues on the committee believe that as soon as the advantages of the new premises are more widely known the society of the new clubhouse will be overtaxed.

The Canadian Club of Great Britain is a men's club, but the committee are arranging for the reception of women guests every day for tea and for dinner once a week. There is no entrance fee, and the club subscription has been fixed at six guineas a year for town members, from three to five guineas for country members according to distance, and one guinea for an overseas membership.

Next door to the Canadian Club in the other old house which shares the same number 29, is a modest little club that is one of the innumerable outgrowths of the war. Started in 1916 as a means of providing war-workers with reasonable well-served, wholesome meals for country members according to distance, and one guinea for an overseas membership.

There has been much heartburning over the action of the Middle Temple. Teachers in locking the Devereux Court entrance against the public so that the general public are deprived of that charming short cut from Fleet Street to the embankment. Luckily the Institute is not so exclusive, and visitors may wander at will down the Inner Temple.

pie lane to that most wonderful of all the London churches. Dr. Williamson, in his interesting book on "Curious Survivals," recently published, tells of a very old custom still kept up close to the Temple, where a light is kept burning all through the night in the hall of one of the houses, to mark an ancient privilege and a bygone right of way. The light is not maintained by the householder, but by the Westminster Council, who send a lamplighter to kindle the light, and to extinguish it in the early morning, when he enters with a latchkey. The reason of this curious proceeding is to retain the right of way of the residents in the little street, to the spring of water in the basement of the house, which at one time was their sole water supply. The Prince of Wales is looking very well indeed after his brief holiday going to Le Touquet. I hear that Deauville, which usually suffers in all the Royal visitors, was very piqued at the honor paid to the little street, when he was there. But Le Touquet is far more English than most of the French watering places, and the English have learned to perfection the art of respecting a wish for privacy, even when such respect conflicts with a patriotic and human curiosity. I saw a good example of this British good breeding the other night when dining at a restaurant where H.R.H. was entertaining three or four friends at a nearby table. The maître d'hôtel had had occasion to explain to many of the people present why they could not have their favorite table, which had been reserved, so everyone knew the Prince was expected, but when he arrived not a head was turned, nor was there any lull in the murmur of conversation. The Prince wished to dine as a private person, and his wish was instantly respected even by the Americans present.

STEAMSHIPS AND LITERATURE

"Even before the days of Harper's and The Atlantic there had suddenly risen in the minds of such men of letters as America possessed the fear that soon there would be no American literature at all," writes L. Frank Tooker in "Forty Years at an Editor's Desk," beginning in the September Century.

"It may seem to the reader a curiously illogical statement, but undoubtedly the successful institution of regular steam traffic between Liverpool and New York in the middle of the last century well brought about that result. Europe had been far away; suddenly it lay almost at our doors, its literature ours for the mere taking. At once there sprang up in New York a host of weeklies that made it their only business to spread before the American reading public the garnered treasures of European magazines at no other cost than that of buying single copies of the periodicals whose contents they wished to purloin. Naturally, in the absence of international copyright laws they were completely at liberty to do so, and the walls of native writers they hushed in the din of their loud praises of themselves as the bearers of the culture and wisdom of Europe to a country that yet possessed neither.

"Not that the material loss to American writers was great. In 1844 Lowell had exulted in the belief that he might hope to earn $400 by his pen in the coming year, and six years later Bayard Taylor had considered the offer of the editorship of Graham's Magazine at $1,000 a year as very handsome."

Mr. Tooker has been one of the guiding minds of The Century Magazine, and his history of The Century Magazine is a history of American magazines and American literature, for one cannot dig far into the history of the magazine in America without coming to the conclusion that its traditions laid a heavy hand upon the development of a national literature.

"Our early magazines were almost our only vehicle of literary expression. They considered themselves the upholders and guardians of the national conceptions of morality and good form, and though they were desirous of amusing and instructing their readers, they would amuse them without bringing a blush to the cheek of modesty and instruct them in such fashion as to strengthen their conviction of the rightness of the world in which they found themselves. "The difficulty with a standard like this is that it does not so much protect purity and elevate the thought as it cuts itself off from life and sincerity. In the last ten years there have come forth from that new pioneer region, the East Side of New York, more genuine literary sincerity and dramatic integrity than the first hundred years of American magazine writers gave to the world. The difference lies wholly in the standards of the two periods."

In 1894 the American Red Cross went to Armenia, where it relieved country laid bare by the Turks.

FRANCE'S LOSSES IN METALLURGY LINES

Official Statement Prepared by French Government Official Shows How the Country Suffered

Of all the French industries which suffered by the war, the metal industry is undoubtedly the one which suffered the most. As a direct consequence, its power of production was greatly impaired, says an official statement prepared on behalf of the French Government. The invasion of her northern and northeastern provinces deprived France of over three-quarters of her resources of her metallurgical production, which came for a very important proportion from those regions, it continues.

The war cut the coal output fifty per cent, and twenty-four per cent of the total came from the invaded districts. France had only twenty-six per cent of her normal output available in September, 1914. Besides this, the war reduced French coke production by 75.5 per cent. For iron ore, France came third on the list, supplying 13.6 per cent of the world's production. After the opening of the hostilities, her situation was such that her output came down to 17 per cent of the normal.

In 1913, France produced yearly over five million tons of pig iron, out of a world total of eighty million tons. During the war, sixty-four per cent of her means of production were located in her invaded territory, and nineteen per cent in the zone occupied by the Allied armies, seventeen per cent only being situated outside of the war region. As regards steel, France was fourth on the list, her production being seven per cent of the world production, but the invasion deprived her of sixty-three per cent of her resources, and a further fourteen per cent came from regions close to the front.

France's production of copper was very small, being 14,000 tons in 1913. Her two main plants at Givet (Ardennes) and Blache-Saint-Vaast were occupied by the enemy and systematically destroyed, thus cutting off eight-two per cent of her means of copper production.

The French output of lead was about 30,000 tons, and the loss due to the war was 24.6 per cent, following upon the destruction of the works of Noelles-Godault Pas-de-Calais.

France produced 65,000 tons of zinc yearly, seventy per cent of which came from districts close to the Belgian frontier. This was cut off by the invasion.

Immediately following the first battle of the Marne, the most important and most modern metallurgical centres of France were occupied by the enemy. It was necessary, therefore, to take steps in order to meet the situation; in other words, to supply the armies with armaments of every kind. New plants were built and equipped in an extraordinarily short time, and they very soon yielded a considerable output. There were built in this period: twelve blast furnaces, one hundred and thirty open-hearth furnaces, forty-seven converters, twenty-one electric furnaces, crucible furnaces, etc. New processes of manufacture were devised in order to suit the needs of the moment; notwithstanding the lack of fuel, the pig iron production, which from 5,207,000 tons, in 1913, had fallen to 983,400 tons by the end of 1914, rose to 1,444,000 tons in 1917, whilst the steel production fell from 4,687,000 tons, pre-war, to 1,375,000 tons, and rose to 2,231,000 tons during the hostilities.

The same upward movement was evidenced in other branches of metallurgy. In regards to brass, particularly, thanks to new plants built hurriedly near Bordeaux, production was trebled; the capacity of production was increased four and a half times. Three centres for the electrolytic refining of copper were also put up. Lead plants were built at Marseilles, zinc plants at Rochefort and Ballindro. Improvements were carried out in the manufacture of aluminum, nickel and antimony.

In short, one sees on the one hand, the invasion and destruction of the richest, largest and best equipped metallurgical regions of France, and on the other, a rapid and most successful reaction, affording the French and Allied armies the help they required and co-operating most effectively in the final victory. Nevertheless, there is one point which needs to be emphasized at the present time, when the important question of "reparation" is being discussed—it is that the destructions were carefully planned and intentionally carried out. In their perpetration, the enemy had no military excuse, his object having solely been wantonly and systematically to place France in a condition of inferiority in the future economical struggle which, obviously, cannot in any sense be compared with battles in field actions, but which is of deep concern to France today.

CANADIAN CLUB PARTY MOUNTAIN CLIMBING

Montreal Visitors Spend Day in Alpine Sport—Pleasant Time at Lake Louise

CHATEAU LAKE LOUISE, Alta., Sept. 12.—Five members of the Montreal Canadian Club party at Lake Louise spent yesterday Alpine climbing. The Reverend Charles Cushing, Mr. J. C. McLeod and Mr. P. L. Hall, guided by Edward Feuz, climbed to the new Alpine hut on Abbott Pass, the altitude of which is 9,588 feet, in three hours and fifty minutes from the Chateau. After this they climbed the Big Beehive from Victoria Glacier.

Mr. Walter Lyman and his daughter Heather, without the assistance of a guide, climbed Mount Fairview, which is over 9,000 feet high. Others climbed lesser peaks, while thirty-six members of the party rode on mountain ponies to Lake Agnes, 7,000 feet high, where they were entertained to tea by Miss Barbara Dodds.
